RAILWAY WALKOUT INJURES WORKMEN

Many Thousands in Several Districts Are Thrown Into Idleness by Stoppage—Over 100,000 Are Affected in Ohio Alone—Eastern States Are Now Most Concerned

UNION LEADERS IN WEST HOPEFUL OF TERMINATION

Efforts to Bring Settlement in Eastern Centres Are Negatived by Extremist Insurgents—Prospects of Beneficial Influence From Newly-Appointed Labor Board at Washington

NEW YORK, April 13.—Interest in the nation-wide strike of rebellious railroad workers, which appeared to be subsiding west of Chicago while spreading in the east, centred tonight in Washington.

Union labor leaders who have striven ineffectually to induce the strikers to return to work, saw a ray of hope in the appointment today of President Wilson's labor board, provided for under the Transportation Act to deal with labor disputes. Early confirmation of the appointments is hoped for by the Senate, so as to permit the board to get into action promptly on the present strike situation.

Meanwhile officials of the Department of Justice in Washington announced that evidence of the activity of the Industrial Workers of the World toward inciting and maintaining the unauthorized strikes had continued to accumulate.

While official estimates were lacking, the number of persons who have been made idle by the strike, directly and indirectly, runs into the hundreds of thousands. In the state of Ohio alone 100,000 persons were reported out of work today, with industrial plants in virtually every section continuing to suspend operations. In the mining district around Scranton and Uniontown 50,000 mine and coke workers were idle.

The main battleground of the strike, which centred for several days in the middle west, switched today to the east. Strikers of Greater New York, whose ranks were steadily augmented during the day, unanimously rejected all overtures of peace at a mass meeting in Jersey City tonight. Further complications were injected into the situation by a strike of 2,000 Pennsylvania railroad shop workers in Trenton, N.J., and reports of unrest among other railroad shopmen in this district.

Will Not Consider Peace

NEW YORK, April 13.—The rebellious railroad strikers of Greater New York, meeting in Jersey City tonight, unanimously rejected all overtures of peace.

The rejection came at the conclusion of the report of an executive committee of the strikers which had conferred through the day with chiefs of the railroad brotherhoods and the Mayor of Jersey City.

A statement issued by the executive committee for the strikers said there could be no settlement "until definite guarantees were made to them concerning their demands for higher wages and better working conditions."

The announcement followed close upon a declaration from representatives of the railroad managers' organization predicting a break in the "mob movement."

A telegram signed by Mayor Frank Hague, of Jersey City, sent to Governor Edwards, of New Jersey, suggesting that he wire President Wilson asking that the new Federal board taking up the subject of arbitrating the strike, was endorsed at the conference. High railroad officials of the Erie worked as switchmen today. The Erie announced that 620 of the 640 students of Stevens Institute had marched to the Erie station and asked to be put to work as strikebreakers, and that 1,600 students at Princeton University pledged they would report for duty in New Jersey stations.

Three hundred employees of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co. tonight voted unanimously to live up to their agreement with the company.

After Governor Edwards, at Trenton, N.J., had telegraphed President Wilson to approve arbitration by the newly-created Labor board, he telegraphed the Governors of Ohio, New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, California, Massachusetts and Connbecticut to join in an effort to settle the strike.

CHICAGO, April 13.—Although leaders of the insurgent switchmen and yardmen today strenuously denied that serious defections had occurred in their ranks, railroad heads and officers of the brotherhoods who are fighting the unauthorized walkout declared that the strike in the Western territory gradually was dying out.

Strikers in a half-dozen cities and towns returned to work today, railroad men at other points voted not to join the walkout, and embargoes were lifted by several roads.

Several railroads in the Chicago terminal district reported that operations were virtually normal. Livestock receipts today were 236 cars, including 4,000 cattle, 3,000 hogs and 7,000 sheep, and ten thousand packing house workers returned to duty.

Striking switchmen at Ludington, Mich., and Hannibal, Mo., returned to work today, and all railroad men who joined the walkout at Bloomington, Ills., decided to end the strike tomorrow. In the Far West 96 Northern Pacific employees voted not to join the walkout or to affiliate with the "outlaw" union.

EVERETT, Wash., April 13.—Great Northern switchmen, at a meeting this morning, voted to return to work, ending the brief strike that began here last night.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—An embargo against all incoming and outgoing freight was placed today by the railroads entering Washington. The only freight received during the last 24 hours was two carloads of fresh meat.

RAILWAYMEN GET INCREASES

LONDON, April 13—A strike of railway workers was considered improbable today following the granting of a number of small increases under a sliding scale by the central wage board. The increases are declared to be commensurate with the increased cost of living and retroactive to November 1.

The wage board will consider at an early meeting the demands of the National Railway Unions for an increase of £1 weekly for certain of the railwaymen. The demands, on which the announced increases were made by the board today, called for a shilling a day increase for engine drivers, two shillings a day for cleaners and a pound sterling weekly for other railwaymen.

START TO BUILD NEW PAPER PLANT

Co-operative Contract Co. at Work Yesterday on Foundations for Paper Mills and Roofing Co. on Harbor Site

Actual construction work began yesterday on the former Songhees reserve in connection with the building of the first five of the buildings that are to comprise the plant of the Sidney Paper Mills and Roofing Company. The Co-operative Contract Company, which has the construction in hand, commenced driving the piles for the foundations yesterday morning. There are 150 of these to be placed along the east foundation line of the building where ground was made when the site was leveled for the yards of the Foundation Company over two years ago. As soon as this is completed, the foundations will be laid for the five buildings contemplated at the present time. Meanwhile material is being assembled on the site as rapidly as possible, and Manager Charles Jones, of the Contract Company, stated last night that he expected to have the buildings erected in course of the next two months.

The construction contemplated immediately includes a warehouse, chopping and mixing room, paper mill and saturating plant. In addition to these there will be a boilerhouse, machine shop and office building. The machinery for the plant has been ordered and is now en route to this city. It is expected

House Hears About Election Expenses

New Member for Assiniboia Causes Discussion by Giving Details Regarding His Campaign—Recall Agreement Disclosed—Much-Discussed Clause 10 Finally Adopted

OTTAWA, April 13.—Clause 10 of the franchise bill, prohibiting contributions directly or indirectly to candidates' campaign funds by any incorporated or unincorporated company or association unless incorporated for political purposes alone, passed in the Commons tonight without a division. An amendment introduced by A. K. McMaster, of Brome, which would prohibit contributions by any but private individuals and then enforce the publication of all such contributions, was defeated, also without a vote.

Mr. McMaster's resolution brought out the first really spirited fight of the session, Farmer members from the Western provinces figuring largely in the list of speakers.

F. A. Davis, Neepawa, from the Government benches, declared he would vote for the amendment because it provided for the publication of all contributions.

Only Re-enactment

After two hours' debate at the evening session, Hon. Hugh Guthrie rose to remark that the member for Brome, in framing his amendment, had evidently neglected to read the bill. Clause 79 of the act, which had been passed as non-contentious, already provided for placing with the returning officer a detailed statement by the candidate or his official agent of "all moneys, securities and equivalents of money" received by or promised to the official agent by the can-

CITY SEEKS NEW FORMS OF INCOME

Many Proposals Made at Special Session—Conditions Do Not Justify Radical Measures, Claims Majority

Following the Provincial Government's refusal of assistance, the City Council was assembled last night to discuss plans to increase the municipality's revenue. Some of the proposals considered were:

1. A tax proposed by Ald. Cameron on retail sales.

2. Sale of the city's unredeemed property to the highest bidder, heralded by an extensive publicity campaign. Proposed by Ald. Sangster, Todd and Andros.

3. Taxation of incomes of $100 a month and over, on the basis of one per cent. Proposed by Ald. Sangster as a compromise of the Sargent plan.

4. A Provincial tax of one per cent on every gallon of gasoline sold, accompanied by higher taxation of motors and particularly trucks, fifty per cent going to the municipalities. Proposed by Ald. Todd.

5. Concentration by the municipalities on the demand for a large share of the amusement and motor taxes. Proposed by Ald. Fullerton.

The Council spent more than two hours discussing these schemes, but it decided to do only two things: Ask the Provincial Government for fifty per cent of the motor and proposed gasoline tax, and reassert the city's claim to the various sources of revenue already often specified, such as amusement taxes, motor taxes, fire insurance taxes, liquor profits, etc.

Not as Black as Painted

One fact upon which all the aldermen agreed was that the financial condition of the city is not nearly so bad as some people seem to imagine. The time for desperate taxation measures has not arrived, and is not likely to arrive, in the opinion of the majority. The aldermen contended that the city should persist in its just claims for recognition in connection with additional sources of income, but that it would be unwise and inopportune to devise any new methods of adding to the burden already borne by the citizens.

It developed that the city's expenses this year will be about $100,000 more than last year, and that the obligations to be met this year total about $350,000.

Ald. Todd contended that the city had not pressed hard enough for a share of the motor tax, and he held that the city should have concentrated its fire on this objective.

Motor Taxes

"I think we should inform the Government that it should go further in its motor tax proposals," said Ald. Todd. "It should levy a special charge of, say, one cent per gallon on sales of gasoline. I would suggest that the municipalities should receive one-half the aggregate of the increased motor tax and gasoline tax. As an enthusiastic motorist and, perhaps, prominent in good roads work, I am not disposed to find fault with the Government's intention to earmark some of the motor tax revenue

SAYS INCIDENT IS NOW CLOSED

Premier Millerand in Interview States That All Differences of View Between Allies Are Composed.

SMALL DIVERGENCE WAS EXAGGERATED

Statement to Chamber Reviews Events Leading to Occupation of Territory and Declares Delay Dangerous

PARIS, April 13.—In an interview tonight Premier Millerand told the correspondent of Reuter's that the Anglo-French incident, the importance of which had been much exaggerated, was definitely closed; that the cloud which for a few days had overshadowed the relations between France and Great Britain had been dissipated. The difficulty, which had been of a passing nature, he added, was merely a divergence of views as to means to be adopted to a certain end, and that it in no way affected the deep-rooted friendship of the two countries.

Address in Chamber

Both Great Britain and France realize the entire necessity of keeping in accord, for the solution of the pending problems with regard to Germany and other parts of the world, Premier Millerand told the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon, in referring to the questions raised by the French occupation of territory in the German neutral zone.

"I am happy to tell the chamber," he said, "that after a loyal interchange of notes by the French and British Governments, they are in accord in declaring that, if there has been a divergence as to the means to be taken with regard to recent questions, they recognize the full necessity of an intimate, cordial agreement for the settlement of the grave questions pending with Germany, as well as those in the rest of the world."

The Premier referred to the attitude of Belgium in supporting the position of France in the occupation move, this reference evoking an enthusiastic demonstration and long applause from the assembled deputies.

The Premier reviewed the events leading up to the French occupation of German cities in the unoccupied zone, saying he had kept the Allies informed through France's ambassadors of her absolute refusal to permit the entrance of additional German troops into the Ruhr.

Delay Dangerous

The request for permission to augment the Ruhr forces, he declared, originated with the Kapp regime, but such increase was useless and dangerous. The Premier said he had informed the Allies that France's decision must be taken and her measure enforced without delay.

Continuing his discourse, Premier Millerand reviewed the events leading up to the occupation move, and stated that it had its inception in the effort on the part of Germany to secure relaxation of certain clauses in the Treaty of Versailles.

"On the 19th of March I telegraphed our ambassador that I protested solemnly against the entry of German troops into the Ruhr Basin; and demanded immediate withdrawal. The viewpoint of the French Government was that certain guarantees were necessary that the treaty would not be violated.

"If the French government had consented to an infraction of the treaty, it would itself have broken the only weapon remaining to it. What guarantee would we have had that the government of Germany would withdraw the troops when their ostensible mission ended, and if the troops remained, what means could be employed to force then to withdraw?"

Solution Satisfactory

LONDON, April 13.—Verbal assurances given by the French government in answering the sixth note of Great Britain regarding the occupation of German cities by the French, were discussed by the Cabinet Council yesterday. They are expected to be followed by a formal note which will mean a satisfactory solution of the difficulty.

France is said to recognize that opposition to its action was based rather upon the maintenance of an important principle than upon the merits of the immediate question involved.

BUDGET IN ONTARIO CARRIES MORE TAXES

TORONTO, April 13.—Announcement of the placing of a tax, estimated to yield $750,000 this year, on the race tracks of the Province, was the feature of the budget speech delivered in the Legislature today by Hon. Peter Smith, Provincial Treasurer.

"Some people have felt that the Government should not allow gambling on race tracks," said the Treasurer, "but for certain reasons we are going to allow it to go on this year, and we are going to charge the half-mile tracks $5,000 a day and the mile tracks $10,000 a day."

Increases in succession duties and corporation taxes will also swell the revenue of the Province, Mr. Smith stated, without outlining the extent of the increase.

LABOR DEPARTMENT INQUIRES INTO RENTS

VANCOUVER, April 13.—Alarmed at the increasing upward trend of rents throughout the Dominion, and with no prospect of relief in sight, the Federal Government plans to make a comprehensive survey of the situation in British Columbia for the purpose of obtaining complete data on the rents being paid by tenants.

The work will be conducted by the Department of Labor through its representatives in Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster, Nanaimo, Trail and Fernie.

Returned soldiers will be employed as enumerators. In Vancouver the survey will be started in about a week, when a crew of about half a dozen men will be sent out.

WILL NOT ACCEPT POLES' PROPOSAL

Soviet Message to Warsaw Says Borisov Is Impossible As Place of Negotiation—Speaks of Break.

WARSAW, April 13.—In rejecting further discussions regarding Borisov, on the Beresina River, northeast of Minsk, as the place for the proposed peace negotiations of Poland and Russia, the Russian Soviet government has sent a wireless message saying it considers the last note of the Poles in the nature of an ultimatum.

"We are now standing face to face withe the sad eventuality of breaking with Poland owing to the failure to agree upon a locality," the message says. It reiterates that the Bolsheviki are ready to accept any neutral town, and suggests the possibility of holding the peace conference in Paris or London. The message concludes by saying that Russia's only alternative has been to address England, America and France.

It is expected here that the Entente note to Poland on the subject will be made public in a few days.

WARSAW, April 13.—A pronounced victory for the Poles over the Bolsheviki on the southeastern front was reported by the general staff today. After several days' fighting a Bolsheviki division was put to flight and more than a score of machine guns, with much booty, were captured by the Poles.

Belated Letter From Russia

CALGARY, April 13.—Mrs. Thos. Browning, of Calgary, received a letter this morning from Moscow, Russia, which was mailed in July, 1914, before the war broke out, by her brother, who was in business there. He mentions nothing about prospects of war but tells of a big strike in Petersburg. Postmarks do not show where the letter was detained.

Stoppage of Work Is Seen All Over Ireland Except in Ulster—Orders From Labor Organizations Call for Indefinite Continuance—Manifesto Enjoins Public Against Disorder

DEMONSTRATIONS MADE AT PRISON

Appeal for Support Is Addressed to Workers in Great Britain—Matter Is Discussed in House of Commons—Mr. Bonar Law Declares Government Cannot Yield

DUBLIN, April 13.—The strike which began today in Ireland, except in Ulster, in sympathy with the political prisoners here and elsewhere, is a general one.

At first it was intended to be a one-day demonstration, but a manifesto issued today by the trades union congress and the labor party calls for its continuance indefinitely.

The manifesto exhorts all citizens to assist in preserving order. It says the strike is a solemn protest, on which the lives of men are dependent, and that no occasion should be given the military for an outbreak.

The strike could not have been more complete. All kinds of business were suspended. The banks and the stock exchange here, which managed to keep open during the anti-conscription strike, were compelled to close. Even the officers of the Government departments found it impossible to carry on their work.

Crowds of visitors who came to Dublin for the Punchestown races were marooned in hotels, where they were compelled to cook their own food and make their own beds. A few of the large hotels tried to keep open, but they were picketed and obliged to close.

Up to a late hour no disorders had been reported. Thousands of persons in Dublin still were carrying on demonstrations outside of Mount Joy prison. Barbed wire entanglements had been erected there to prevent access to the prison. During the day airplanes sailed over the crowds, at times almost touching the housetops.

The Irish bishops meeting at Maymooth issued a statement condemning the Government's conduct.

Government Cannot Yield

LONDON, April 13. — Indications that the Government will firmly resist yielding on the question of liberating the Irish hunger strikers was the outcome of a debate started in the House of Commons today by T. P. O'Connor, Nationalist, supported by John B. Clynes and other Labor members.

Earlier, Mr. Andrew Bonar Law, the Government leader, admitted that many of the Irish prisoners, both at Mount Joy, Dublin, and in English institutions, are being detained without charges and with no plans to bring them to trial. Mr. Bonar Law was replying to questions, and added that under existing conditions in Ireland, where murder was rife, it was necessary for the protection of lives that persons be arrested on suspicion.

During the debate Mr. Clynes, pointing out the danger of the labor disturbances in Ireland spreading to England, urged that the arrested men be either tried or subjected to special treatment.

Sir Donald Maclean, National Liberal leader, also supporting Mr. O'Connor, the Irish leader, complained that prisoners without trial are being treated as condemned criminals.

Mr. Bonar Law reiterated that there was no possibility of the Government changing its decision and that any sign of weakness in this matter would only aggravate the situation.

Appeal to Ambassador Davis

LONDON, April 13.—Acting Lord Mayor O'Neill of Dublin and High Sheriff McWalter appealed ineffectually to John W. Davis, American Ambassador, after they had failed to persuade the American Consul at Dublin to intervene for the Irish hunger strikers.

A message signed O'Neill and McWalter and received by Ambassador Davis today says:

"We had an interview with your consul this morning concerning amelioration of the condition of the political prisoners at present on hunger strike. He stated he had no diplomatic power and referred us to you; therefore we ask for your personal appeal to the Right Hon. Andrew Bonar Law to release, as we have already requested him, such of the prisoners who are seriously ill."

Ambassador Davis in reply telegraphed:

"The consul was quite correct in his statement of his powers, and my own do not extend to any representations except on behalf of citizens of the United States."

Two Men Released

DUBLIN, April 13.—Two of the prisoners in Mount Joy prison have been released because the military authorities decided not to prosecute them. One of them was a hunger striker.

The executive of the Irish Trade Union Congress has issued an appeal to the workers of Great Britain urging, "if they have the spirit of free men to let them prove it by resolutely supporting the Irish workers."

Modification

LONDON, April 14.—Decision to modify the treatment of Irish prisoners who were arrested under the Defence of the Realm Act has been reached by the British Government, notwithstanding Andrew Bonar Law's statement in the House yesterday, it is stated unofficially but from well-informed sources. It is understood the men now in Mount Joy prison will not be released, but will be granted certain concessions, which according to some reports will take the form of privileges usually accorded political prisoners. These concessions will apply only to those who have not been tried, and those who have been tried and convicted will not be able to take advantage of them.

Agitators From I.W.W. Are Spreading Strike

Department of Justice Agents Gather Much Evidence That Extremist Machinations Have Much to Do With Trouble—J. Grunau Displaced by an I.W.W. Representative

WASHINGTON, April 13. — Evidence of the activity of Industrial Workers of the World toward inciting and maintaining the unauthorized railway strike, continues to accumulate at the Department of Justice, and officials admitted tonight that they saw signs of an attempt to expand the railroad strike into "one phase of a world revolution."

Reports from field agents of the department were not complete enough to permit determination of the government's course in dealing with the situation.

President Wilson today issued a call for his cabinet to meet tomorrow morning. It will be the first session of Mr. Wilson's official advisers since his western speaking tour, on which he was taken ill, and the strike situation was understood to have prompted the call. In some quarters it was thought an announcement as to the Government's course would follow the cabinet meeting.

The President also sent to the Senate today the nominations of nine men representing employers, employees and the public whom he had selected to compose the labor board provided under the Transportation Act to deal with railway labor disputes.

The nominations were immediately referred to the Interstate commerce commission, which is expected to take action tomorrow.

The board will be called by the President without delay, and was expected to meet in Washington.

Work of Radicals

Attorney-General Palmer, when he goes to the cabinet meeting will have a very large number of reports from his agents at strike centers, which are known to deal specifically with the relation of the I. W. W. to the strike movement. He will be able to show the President and the cabinet that through the agency of the I. W. W., relationship has been established between the strikers' newly formed organization—the Railway Workers' Union—and the "One Big Union" as the Canadian radical organization including I. W. W. membership is known.

He will also be able to disclose through official reports that John Grunau, head of the Chicago Yardmen's Association, the members of which were the first in the country to quit their posts, has been supplanted by an active member of the I. W. W.

Arrests at New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 13.—Forrest C. Pendleton, Department of Justice agent here, at the head of a squad of department operatives raided a hall in which a meeting of 300 members of the local yardmen's association was being held tonight, and arrested six of the leaders on Federal warrants charging them with interfering with the United States mails.

Condemned by Railwaymen

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 13.—By resolutions adopted late tonight, the biennial convention of the railway department of the American Federation of Labor condemned the "insurgent" switchmen's strike and urged all members of its affiliated organizations to refuse in any way to support the walkout.

The convention which represents 700,000 members in eight railroad crafts, also endorsed President Wilson's appointments to the labor board on behalf of labor, and declared that the list that labor could confidently expect justice through the law creating the board and safely leave their grievances to it.

NEW ALCOHOL MAY SUPPLANT GASOLINE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 13.—Discovery of a new alcohol, made from wood and usable as grain alcohol and in a mixture for a gasoline substitute, was described today at the convention of the American Chemical Society in session here.

The alcohol is obtained from the sugar in waste from the manufacture of pulp, and mixed with kerosene and benzol forms a substitute for gasoline.

MEMBERS' PRIVILEGE SUBJECTED TO TEST

OTTAWA, April 13.—An appeal on behalf of Senator George Fowler, who on Saturday had judgment given against him by Mr. Justice Latchford in the Supreme Court of Ontario because he did not appear to defend the action brought against him by the Capital Trust Corporation, will be made to the Court of Appeals, according to a statement by George Kidd, his counsel.

The outcome of the appeal will be watched with much interest by the members of the Senate and the House of Commons, as considerable speculation is already in circulation on the decision, and it is said that some of the parliamentarians are desrous of knowing how far they are "privileged" as members of the Senate or the Commons.

PROGRESSIVE PARTY DENIES DISRUPTION

OTTAWA, April 13.—Categorical denial of the charges made in an editorial of a local paper yesterday that the new National Progressive Party was disrupted with internal schisms is made by members of the party today.

"There is absolutely no truth whatever in these charges and no foundation for making them. We are all united, and know exactly where we stand on the really important matters to come before the House this session."

TURKISH PARTIES INVOKE RELIGION

Sultan's Government and Nationalist Faction Have Each Their Own Sheik-ul-Islam Issuing Opposing Decrees

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 13.—The question of religious authority in Islam is raised by move and countermove on the part of the ministry of religion in the Sultan's Government in Constantinople and that of the Nationalist Government at Angora.

The Sheik-ul-Islam at Constantinople has appealed to all Moslems, urging them to a holy war upon the Nationalists. Replying to this, the Nationalist Sheik-ul-Islam has issued a religious decree denouncing the Sultan and discrediting the Constantinople appeal.

Dissolution of the Chamber of Deputies has been ordered by the Sultan, and in obedience to this command, members of the House have dispersed without disorder.

Sultan Mehmid VI. of Turkey has thrown all his political and religious power into the balance as a final measure in combating the Nationalist movement in Asia Minor.

"Wrath of Heaven and eternal torments of Hell" are called down on the heads of all Moslems who do not support the Sultan, by Durriazade Abdullah Effendi, the new Sheik-ul-Islam. He excoriated the Nationalist, and declares that "all Mussulmans who kill Nationalists will be blessed by Allah, and all who die fighting the rebels earn eternal glory hereafter."

Mobilization of the Sultan's adherents has begun in the islands in the Sea of Marmora, and along the shores of the Black Sea.

There is little disposition on the part of the Turks in this city to join the Sultan's forces. They say their fathers and brothers are fighting in Mustapha Kemal's army, and they will not engage in a civil war.

didate or any other person, naming everyone from whom the same may have been received or promised, and whether recived as a contribution, loan, advance or deposit or otherwise Mr. Guthrie declared the clause was not aimed at any of the farmers' organizations whatever the West might think. It was simply to prevent corporate subscriptions for political purposes. There was no limit placed on individual subscriptions. It was re-enacting the clause of 1908.

Dubious Agreement

O. R. Gould, Assiniboia, gave details of the election expenses and told of signing an agreement with a committee by which he would be called upon to resign if he did not measure up to the standards required of that committee and 40 per cent of his electors. This was his idea of the referendum and recall. The people of the West, he said, were sick of having Parliament controlled by the "Big interests." They spoke of huge secret campaign funds which had debauched the country during the 1911 reciprocity campaign, and those in the West had taken this step to see that in future politics in Canada should be purified.

John Best, Dufferin, and J. A. Sexsmith, West Peterboro, attacked the member from Assiniboia, as the spokesman of class movements. The former declared a house-to-house canvass among the farmers of the West collecting their money when they did not know who would be their candidate, was fraud, pure and simple. A campaign fund of $8,667, collected in one constituency, as Mr. Gould said, had been collected in Assiniboia, meant a total of one and a half millions in the Dominion, and this sum in the hands of any one class for political purposes was a serious menace to Canada. The member for Dufferin would jail any man who made charges of corruption with nothing more than general statements to back them up.

Corruption.

Referring to the absence of details in regard to the payments in an election expense account which Mr. Gould had read, Mr. Sexsmith declared those payments might have been for anything at all. "It is corruption of the frankest and vilest type," he charged.

T. M. Tweedie, Calgary West, declared the member for Assiniboia had proved himself a class legislator in the agreement of which he had told the House. Such an agreement was a pistol at the head of a candidate who was elected to serve all Canada and not a small group in one constituency.

Dr. J. W. Edwards, Frontenac, charged that the agreement in question came close to a contravention of the Independence of Parliament Act, and demanded that it should be placed in Hansard. He spoke of the farmers as a "holier-than-thou" party who were attempting innovations which would not serve the purpose they professed to be seeking.

Hon. W. S Fielding declared that the day was not far distant when the legitimate expenses of a candidate would be a direct charge on the treasury of the Dominion, and then all such talk as this would have vanished. There was no reason, he declared, why many members of the House should not see that day.

ASKS ABOUT WORK OF DEWITT FOSTER

OTTAWA, April 13.—The appointment of Dewitt Foster to a position with the Canadian National Railways has given rise to the following questions, placed on the order paper by R. H. Halbert, North Ontario:

"Was Mr. Dewitt Foster, now superintendent of resources, Canadian National Railways, with offices at 2562 Merquette Building, Chicago, a member of the House of Commons, representing a Nova Scotia constituency, from 1911 to 1915? Was the said Dewitt Foster read out of his party by the Prime Minister by reason of improper dealings in connection with horses purchased for the Government? By whom was he appointed to his present position?"

WHEAT IS DEARER AT BUENOS AYRES

Highest Prices for Past Five Years Are Recorded in Market There—Consequence of World Scarcity.

BUENOS AYRES, April 13.—Wheat sold at from 2 pesos 50 centavos to 20 pesos 70 centavos per hundred kilos, in the local market yesterday, being the highest prices in the last five years. The export market has been active and firm in the last week, even inferior offerings being placed as high as 18 pesos 70 centavos per hundred kilos.

La Epoca, commenting on Saturday's quotation of 20 pesos, says it is the logical consequence of the scarcity of wheat the world over. The newspaper adds:

"Advices from London and New York report there is some concern in Europe over the big deficit in the North American crop, which will cause Great Britain to look elsewhere for future importations."

This can be only to Argentina, as Canada and Egypt are able to contribute only small quantities to fill Great Britain's urgent requirements.

HAWAIIAN PEOPLE WELCOME PRINCE

Two Days' Festivities Had Been Planned, But His Programme Compels Curtailment of Visit.

HONOLULU, April 13.—Edward, Prince of Wales, was greeted here today. The British cruiser Renown arrived after an uneventful voyage from San Diego. Two days of festivities had been planned for the royal visitor, a feature of tomorrow's reception to be a "hook up" or gift-giving ceremony by native Hawaiians in the same room in which the Duke of Edinburgh, his granduncle, was similarly honored in 1869.

The Prince rode the surf at Waikiki Beach today in an outrigger canoe, piloted by Duke Kahanamoku, world's champion sprint swimmer. After it was over he expressed regret that his programme permitted only one day's stay in Honolulu.

He arrived this morning on the British battle cruiser Renown. Two hours later he landed and was festooned with flowers at the dock. Thousands of persons lined the streets and cheered.

The Renown was scheduled to sail at daybreak tomorrow.

Successful Co-operation

The Co-operative Contract Company is a local organization. It was originated in the Saanich municipality a year ago with the purpose of creating employment for as many of the unemployed in the district as possible. Mr. C. B. Jones, then Reeve of Saanich, was elected president and manager for the company, and Messrs. James Owen, Alex. Watchman, H. S. Cooper and Major Spurgin comprise the board of directors. Mr. W. Mastin is its secretary-treasurer. The company is capitalized at $50,000 and the stock is owned mostly by the workmen. There are at the present time 32 shareholders.

The initial undertaking of the company was so successful as a co-operative institution that it is now in the field as a regular contracting firm doing general construction, alterations and repairs. In this latter sphere it has filled a much-felt want, and Manager Jones reports that there has been no scarcity of work for its shareholders during the past few months. Recently several houses have been built by the company for returned men taking advantage of the city's housing scheme, and an exceptionally high standard of workmanship has been maintained. The management points to the success of the company as an example of co-operation between capital and labor that has been highly successful and one worthy of more general emulation, as a solution to many of the ills of the industrial world.

MR. O. B. SMITH LEAVES GRANBY COMPANY

VANCOUVER, April 13.—Of more than ordinary interest to mining men is the announcement made today that O. B. Smith, connected with the Granby Mining, Smelting & Power Co. for the past twenty-one years, resigned on March 1. At the date of his resignation Mr. Smith was assistant to the managing director and head of the exploration department of the company. Ill-health has forced Mr. Smith to sever his connection with the company, and until he has fully recovered he will not endeavor to re-enter the mining game actively.

Mr. Smith graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. It was in 1908 that the mining department of the Granby Company started extensive exploration, and it was at that time that the noted Hidden Creek property at Anyox was examined by Mr. Smith and H. J. C. Macdonald and reported upon favorably. Development work which followed resulted in creating one of the greatest copper producers on the North American continent.

WHEAT BOARD HELPS FARMERS ON PRAIRIE

WINNIPEG, April 13.—In view of the late seeding season, and in order to assist farmers in drought-stricken areas of the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta to purchase their seed wheat requirements, an extension of another 10 days has been granted by the Canadian wheat board in an order issued today, effective from April 15.

The price of wheat for seed purposes will be $2.45 a bushel, basis No. 1 Northern, in store public terminal elevators, Fort William and Port Arthur, until April 30, and after that date the price of wheat for use as seed or feed shall be $2.00 a bushel.

TROOPS SHOOT DOWN PEOPLE AT ESSEN

ESSEN, April 13.—Twenty-six persons were shot dead and two were seriously wounded by members of the Reichswehr who got beyond control of their officers Wednesday in the triangular district between Botrop Essen and Mulheim, according to a statement made to the correspondent, today by Colonel von Baumbach, commanding the Reichswehr.

The commander added that the guilty will be punished. The troops were incensed, said von Baumbach, by reports that the Red army had mistreated prisoners and also by the abolition of military tribunals by orders of the Berlin authorities.

RAILROAD LABOR BOARD APPOINTED

Names of Members Are Sent to Senate — Government's Action May Have Effect on Strike—Prosecutions

WASHINGTON, April 13. — The railroad labor board was appointed today by President Wilson. The members are:

Representing the public—George W. Hangar, Washington, D.C.; Henry Hunt, Cincinnati; R. M. Barton, Tennessee.

Representing the employees—Albert Phillips, A. O. Wharton and James J. Forrester.

The board will be authorized to meet in Washington at once to take up the grievances of the railroad employees now on strike. The nominations went to the Senate at noon today.

The nominations were considered later by the Senate interstate commerce committee, which decided to withhold action for 24 hours in order to enable it to obtain some information regarding especially the members of the public group.

CHICAGO, April 13.—Appointment by President Wilson of the railroad labor board is looked upon by railroad officials and brotherhood officials here as being a long step toward settlement of the strike. They are now awaiting announcement by Attorney-General Palmer of the Government's attitude toward the illegal strike.

Officials on both sides reiterated that the roads are powerless to raise wages until the newly-appointed board has reviewed the requests now pending.

Tie-Up Bad in East

NEW YORK, April 13.—New York was still in the grip of the outlawry strike today, and there were no surface indications of a general break in the ranks of the strikers.

Road officials were cheered by the announcements that military engineers, college students and citizens in several communities had volunteered to fill the strikers' places.

While gains were made by the strikers yesterday, food trains reached the city in such numbers as to relieve the anxieties of the health officials.

PHILADELPHIA, April 13.—The Pennsylvania Railroad announced today that 13,098 employees of all classes, out of a total of 275,000 are on strike. In the eastern region (headquarters Philadelphia) 6,425 were out; Central (headquarters Pittsburg), 551; Southern (headquarters St. Louis), 899; Northwestern (headquarters Chicago), 1,223.

I.W.W. Machinations

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Coincident with reports today of the growing seriousness of the railroad strike, President Wilson called a meeting of his Cabinet for tomorrow to discuss "the general situation." It will be the first time Mr. Wilson has met with his official family since last August.

The Department of Justice today sent telegrams to the executive officials of the Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads, asking that they supply the names of the men on strike on their lines, indicating the leaders in the movement.

Reports from field agents of the department today said a new union was being formed among the strikers in Pittsburg and Chicago. The organization was identified as the "Railroad Workers' Union," with temporary headquarters in Chicago.

Department agents at Chicago advised that John Grunau had been deposed as head of the Chicago Yardmen's Association. Efforts were being made to learn the identity of the new officials; who, the reports said, were affiliated with the Chicago Industrial Workers of the World.

GEN. WOOD RECALLED BY RAILWAY STRIKE

BOSTON, April 13.—Major-General Leonard Wood today cancelled the leave of absence which he obtained to make a campaign for the Republican nomination for President, and said he would leave later in the day for Chicago to resume his duties as commanding general of the Central Department. He stated that his action was due to railroad strike conditions.

WASHINGTON, April 13—Major-General Leonard Wood's decision to cancel his leave of absence and return to the command of the Central Department because of the conditions growing out of the railroad strike was made on his own initiative, it was said today at the War Department.

His Conscience Awakened

WINNIPEG, April 13.—"Forty-eight hours in hell," was the lurid title of a tract which fell out of an envelope opened at the Canadian Pacific Railway offices. With it was $80 in bills and a letter from a man who said he had stolen it on the Canadian Pacific Railway line from Moose Jaw to Yellow Grass in 1912. His evil deeds did not worry him all this time, he said, but added, "I have been living up with the word of God of late, and this came up before me."

THANKFUL MOTHERS

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she would use nothing else. The Tablets give such results that the mother has nothing but words of praise and thankfulness for them. Among the thousands of mothers throughout Canada who praise the Tablets is Mrs. David A. Anderson, New Glasgow, N.S., who writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my children and from my experience I would not be without them. I would urge every other mother to keep a box of the Tablets in the house." The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach; drive out constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and make teething easy. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The method here suggested for the removal of superfluous hair is quick and certain and unless the growth is extremely stubborn, a single application does the work. To avoid disappointment, be sure your druggist sells you delatone.

"RED" BRIGAND LEAVES PLAUEN

Ambition of Max Hoeltz Is Checked by Workers Refusing Support and Government's Prompt Action

PLAUEN, April 12.—Owing to the energy of the Saxon Government against Max Hoelz, communist leader and former lecturer in a motion picture theatre, Hoelz and his band of marauders have disappeared, and their whereabouts is unknown. They cut telegraph and telephone wires leading from Plauen.

Prior to his departure, Hoelz had sought to inaugurate a great campaign of arson. He distributed placards, calling for destruction of all public buildings and residences of the propertied classes on appearance of the Reichswehr. Only factories and banks were to be excepted.

Before quitting his headquarters at Falkenstein, near Plauen, Hoelz, angered at the refusal of the Plauen business community to submit to his levy of a half billion marks, had his raiders descend upon Plauen. They compelled cafe and restaurant guests to give up their money, invaded residences of wealthy citizens and rifled a safe or two.

At Falkenstein the band looted local stores and set fire to five large villas. The inmates were given ten minutes to leave. The furniture and woodwork inside was then soaked with benzine and the torch applied. The buildings were destroyed.

The expectation of Hoelz that the working community would support him was dashed by a vote of the Vogtland workers. Their ballot was 44,000 to 26,000 against a strike.

HOLD CONFERENCE ON LABOR LAWS

Representatives of Dominion and Provinces for Ottawa Gathering on April 26 Are Named—Uniformity Object

OTTAWA, April 13.—The names of all representatives from all the Provinces of Canada, with the exception of Prince Edward Island, who are to participate in the conference to co-ordinate and unify the labor laws, which will take place here on April 26, have been made public. Each Province will send a representative of the Government, one of the employers and one of the employees.

These will meet with a representative of the Dominion Government, a representative of labor and a representative of the employing interests for the whole of Canada.

The list of names is as follows:

For the whole Dominion—Government representative, F. A. Acland, Deputy Minister of Labor, Ottawa; employers' representative, J. G. Merrick, Toronto; employees representative, Tom Moore, Ottawa, substitute, Arthur Martel, Montreal.

The Western representatives are:

For Manitoba—Government representative, E. McGrath, Winnipeg; employers' representative, H. B. Lyall, Winnipeg; employees' representative, E. Robinson, Winnipeg.

For Saskatchewan — Government representative, T. A. Molloy, Regina; employers' representative, James Priel, Saskatoon; employees' representative, James Somerville, Moose Jaw.

For Alberta—Government representative, John T. Stirling, Edmonton; employers' representative, W. F. McNeill, Calgary; employees' representative, James A. Kinney, Edmonton.

For British Columbia—Government representative to be added by subsequent order; employers' representative, J. A. Coughlan, Vancouver; employees' representative, James S. McVety, Vancouver.

The conference was announced by the Minister of Labor in the Senate some days ago, and follows a resolution passed at the national industrial conference in September, 1919, emphasizing the importance of obtaining uniformity in the various laws of the country relating to labor.

CANADIAN RAILWAYS WILL GET THEIR CARS

WINNIPEG, April 13.—There will be plenty of freight cars to move the 1920 crop, if Canadian cars now in the United States can be brought back to Canada, W. B. Lanigan, freight traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific, announced today. Arrangements are being made for their return.

Mr. Lanigan said that there would have to be an increase in freight rates to meet increased operating costs on all roads, and application will be made to the Railway Commission in July on behalf of the railways.

VANCOUVER, April 13.—F. W. Peters, general superintendent of C.P.R. Western lines, who returned from a visit to the East, states that the car situation is vastly improved. The company was now coming back into its own as regards the belated returning of cars from the other side of the border. There were numbers of foreign cars available for shipments. He expected that a few months would see conditions restored to normal.

IRISH BUSINESS BADLY BLOCKED

General Strike Declared on Behalf of Sinn Fein Prisoners Is in Force—Crowd Assembles at Prison.

DUBLIN, April 13.—The general strike declared in Ireland in protest over the treatment of the political prisoners who are on a hunger strike in Mount Joy prison here, went into effect today amid tumultuous scenes in the vicinity of the prison.

The crowd which had assembled outside the prison edifice grew as the day wore on, until it comprised 20,000 persons, among whom threatening demonstrations occurred. The authorities thought it necessary to augment the defences, and tanks and several armored cars, with a large force of police and military, were stationed about the structure. It was announced that the strike, which originally was intended as a one-day demonstration, would continue until the prisoners were released.

All the shops, public houses and restaurants of Dublin are closed and the hotel staffs quit. No tram cars or trains are running except a few on the Great Northern Ireland Railway. The Punchestown races have been postponed until tomorrow.

The strike is not in effect in Belfast and in the North of Ireland. In Dublin and throughout the West and South of Ireland, however, business is at a standstill.

The vast crowd outside the prison this afternoon was offering prayers for the hunger strikers. The Lord Mayor was officially informed at the prison that all the prisoners were very weak and that anything might happen within 12 hours.

Appeal to Authorities

The Lord Mayor and the high sheriff thereupon telegraphed the Chief Secretary for Ireland in London, asking him to intervene in the interest of peace and humanity, stating that Dublin was in a fever of excitement and adding: "We fear that a dreadful tragedy is impending."

Announcements of deaths among the hunger strikers have been expected by the people for the last 24 hours. As the time went by and the prisoners still survived, however, expressions were heard among the most devout elements in the crowd of faith in the efficacy of their prayers.

Meanwhile all the visitors who left the prison were urgently questioned regarding the condition of the hunger strikers.

Dublin is tied up more effectively by the present strike than in the memorable "conscription strike" in 1918. Even the post office service, with the exception of the telegraph department, is at a standstill, no letters being delivered. As the workers left the College Street post office early this morning, armed detectives rushed in and took possession of the building.

Held Without Charges

LONDON, April 13.—Many of the Irish prisoners, both at Mount Joy and in English institutions, are being held without charges having been preferred against them, and without trial, it was admitted by Mr. Andrew Bonar Law, the Government leader, in the House of Commons today. Replying to questions, he confirmed statements which had been made to this effect. He declared that this fact had been stated many times, and he should have thought the whole House would have recognized that under such conditions as existed in Ireland, where murder was rife, it was necessary, if lives were to be protected, that people be arrested on suspicion.

This had been done before when Ireland was in a similar state, Mr. Bonar Law pointed out, and the Government had no intention, he said, of altering the practice.

Referring to the hunger strike, Mr. Bonar Law said that all would greatly deplore deaths caused by people committing suicide. In these circumstances, however, to give the impression that political action might be taken in the Commons to alter a decision of the Government was likely to increase the danger, he declared.

BELFAST, April 13.—The Evening Telegraph's Dublin correspondent wires, under reserve, a statement that the Cabinet is about to grant the demands of the Irish hunger strikers.

Uneasy Story About Rainbow

OTTAWA, April 13.—A story to the effect that the naval department had decided to scrap the obsolete cruiser Rainbow, now at Esquimalt, B.C., is denied at naval headquarters here. It is said that no attempts have yet been made to sell the Rainbow, and therefore it is not known whether it will be possible to do so or not.

DEMOBILIZATION AT ESQUIMALT

There is good reason to believe that the demobilization now in progress at the Esquimalt naval base is preliminary to reorganization, but there should be more definite assurance than exists that this is the case. Among those who are being demobilized are many who have been induced to join the service with the prospect of steady employment. There are others who formerly served in the Royal Navy but who left that service to join the Canadian Navy on the understanding the career therein offered better inducements than that which they decided to leave. In the interests of these men the Government should come to a speedy decision. It is true there are not many affected, but those who are cannot help thinking that by the present demobilization policy the Government is guilty of a breach of confidence.

We feel assured that the country, for the sake of the small retrenchment which can be effected by what is being done, does not wish to throw a damper on the sea spirit of the Dominion. It is very certain that the people of Canada do not want to see the sailors who were enlisted for the service of their country thrown out of jobs because of a penurious policy for which there is no widespread demand. If, as is stated in some quarters, it is the growing political influence of the farmers of the East and Prairie Provinces which is responsible for there being no naval policy in the Dominion, then the sooner the country knows it the better. If this is not the case, and it is purely a matter of retrenchment upon which the Dominion Government has decided without any influences having been brought to bear, then the logical outcome will be the cessation of idle talk about Canada's independent status in the councils of the League of Nations. That status will be worth nothing unless the country is willing to take her part in the responsibilities it implies. Without tangible recognition of those responsibilities, and especially such as are connoted by naval power, the place we will enjoy at the council table of the League will be only created by the reflected greatness of Britain.

SOURCES OF REVENUE.

The City Council at its session last evening did not advance far towards rehabilitating municipal finances, and we admit that the task it set out to achieve was a difficult one for it to perform unaided. Among the proposals made was a tax on retail sales. Such an impost would at once send up the cost of living beyond that which prevails in neighboring communities and this eventually would have a deleterious influence on progress. Yet another suggestion was the sale of unredeemed property to the highest bidders, following an intensive publicity campaign. This would not prove a very lucrative source of income, in fact the index to what might be secured is found in the tax sale of last year. A third proposal is the taxation of incomes of over $100 a month. This suggestion will be bitterly opposed. Both the Federal and Provincial Governments are now collecting income tax from the people of British Columbia and our inhabitants are in no humor to bear a third charge. A fourth proposal is a tax on every gallon of gasoline sold within the city limits. The taxation of commodities which are imported is usually regarded as a Federal affair, though it is possible some power would be given to municipalities if it was sought.

The only permanent hope for the present situation is the continuation of the campaign whereby the municipalities can share to a greater extent in the sources of Provincial revenue. If it were possible to believe that the city, through the sale of unredeemed property, could derive an income of $200,000 per annum for the next few years the relief would be of considerable value, but there is not a shadow of reason to believe this is likely. Properties have been let go at tax sales, not so much because of the taxes now owing on them but because of prospective taxes, and the latter would not be relieved were the properties involved to pass out of the possession of the municipality. The very features which make tax sales a failure would militate, in exactly a similar way, against any auction of unredeemed property. Such a course would, also, be a poor advertisement for the city, especially if accompanied, as suggested, by an intensive publicity campaign.

British Columbia is bled white with taxation at the present time, both municipally and Provincially. The City Council is ill advised to ascertain new revenue raising projects whereby the mass of the people will be affected, as would be the case if retail sales were taxed or if a municipal income tax were enforced. The most valuable suggestion advanced last evening was that for a concentrated campaign for a share of 50 percent of the increased motor car licence fees and a larger proportion of the amusement tax. In the last analysis it is the Provincial Government which must afford the relief needed, and it must also share with the municipalities the responsibility for the latter being in the financial position in which they find themselves today. Industrial development is the keynote of increased revenue, both Provincially and municipally, but this does not seem to have entered into the consideration of our mayor and aldermen, nor have they ever contemplated what lies within municipal power to attract enterprises to this community, and to keep them here when they come. Since this is not a part of the programme the major consideration which remains is a continued campaign for a redistribution of Provincial and municipal revenues whereby the tax on land in the congested areas can be relieved. The alderman who still believes that land can be made to bear the burden is pursuing a chimera. He is gambling on the hope of fictitious values developing and is blind to the fact that land at present, in this community at all events, is assessed far above its actual value, and for this reason cannot pay the taxes which are imposed. The municipalities should band together and make their financial case so clear to the Government that the latter can no longer remain blinded to circumstances which must inevitably react on itself, or its successor in office.

COAL AND OIL RESERVATIONS

The announcement that the Provincial Government is going to reserve the oil measures or lands of the Peace River District for the use and benefit of the people is very interesting, if not considered in too critical a spirit. The administration is also, it is understood, reserving coal measures which have not passed out of its possession for kindred purposes. Readers of The Colonist will remember that when a railway was built through the Crow's Nest Pass the Government of that day—it was the Laurier Government that then held the reins at Ottawa—announced with a flourish of trumpets that echoed throughout the land that it had wrenched a certain proportion of the coal measures of that district from the hands of speculators and would hold them in reserve for the use and benefit of the people and that it had fixed the charges upon coal at the pit mouth at a nominal figure. The reserve, it was represented, would hold the mine owners in check, inasmuch as if they became exorbitant in their prices the reserves could be opened up and fuel supplied the public at reasonable rates.

We do not know, and do not think the public do either, what has become of those coal reserves, and it is certain that prices have passed far beyond the level that prevailed at the time the Crow's Nest mines were opened. In the meantime the Government, confronted with the necessity of increasing its revenues—a condition which seems to be chronic in administration circles these days—has imposed royalties on all coal mined, and the operating companies have promptly and logically added the royalties to the charges imposed on consumers, so that natural resources, whether reserved or unreserved, in some respects at least, are not of great benefit to the people.

Declarations of the Government of its intentions to reserve coal and oil measures or prospects for the benefit of the people appear to be just so much political cant. They are made for the purpose of impressing the public with the administration's zeal for the protection of its interests. The Government obviously has no intention of entering into the business of mining coal or operating oil wells. If the oil measures are valuable they must inevitably pass into the hands of interests which will develop them and operate them. The Government says it wants to ascertain their value, doubtless with a view of determining the terms upon which they shall be allotted to operators. Why spend the money of the people upon that when private concerns will do all that is required for their own satisfaction and the protection of those they represent? The result will be the same in the end. All the charges the Government imposes will be levied against the oil products and the consumers will have to pay them. The law which governs the operation of those things is as immutable as those of Nature.

The only compensation possible for the people of British Columbia in the premises is that most of the oil may be exported and foreign consumers must meet the charges. That is the sole reason why, if there are valuable oil measures in the Peace River District, they should be developed with the least possible loss of time and the wealth represented in them exploited for the benefit of the public. Past experience seems to prove that the resources of the Province cannot add to the wealth of the people by being held in reserve.

Pelican Gas Well Capped

EDMONTON, April 13.—H. L. Williams, who has just returned from the North, brings word that he and his crew have succeeded in capping the famous Pelican gas well, that has been burning steadily practically ever since it was first tapped by the Government drillers 23 years ago. Mr. Williams took a contract from the Department of the Interior last Fall to cap the well.

THOROUGHBREDS

(By Guy Manners)

The winding trail, that stretches for miles
From the break o' day to the rainbows end,
Is a pathway, lighted with winsome smiles,
If you trudge along with a dog, for a friend.
Over the hills and far away,
Close by the sea and its tossing spray,
Somber in thought, over memories dead
Shared by your four-footed thoroughbred.

The winding trail leads far, far away;
'Tis the journey of life, that seems never to end,
You rest by the crossroad of another day
In the shadows of eve, in the twilights blend
Tread, tread, tread on your way;
Through the starlit night to the peep o' day,
With never a fear, never a dread,
For you're safe, with your four-footed thoroughbred.

But the winding trail must end,—some day,
At the foot of a mountain, steep,
'Tis then, that you'll kneel and silently pray
That your soul may peacefully sleep;
Sleep,—'til the break of judgment day,
Sleep,—by the sea and its tossing spray,
Sleep, in quiet, at the end of the trail,
Lulled to rest by the thoroughbred's wail.

PLEASING RECITAL

St. Mary's Memorial Hall Last Night Filled With Delighted Audience.

A programme given in St. Mary's Memorial Hall, Oak Bay, last night, attracted a big audience which was by no means disappointed in the hope of hearing something unusually interesting and pleasing. The orchestra numbers, under the leadership of Mr. J. Douglas Macey, were the features of the concert, and were especially referred to by Rev. G. H. Andrews in the expression of thanks and congratulation which he extended at the last to those who participated in the programme, mention being made particularly of "La Joie" and "Minuet," compositions by the conductor himself. Of the other orchestral numbers the "Spanish Dances" by Moszkowski, and the richly harmonious "Nocturne" from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream," were favorites.

Those playing in the orchestra were Mrs. Leeder, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Bristol Bennett (1st violins); Miss K. Bradshaw and C. Laundy (2nd violins); Miss Duckett and Dr. Houghton (violas); A. Parfitt ('cello); Miss D. Scott, (piano); W. G. Plowright (double bass).

Vocal and instrumental solos rounded out this pleasing programme, Mrs. Gideon Hicks, who was in unusually good voice, being welcomed in a charming group. Miss Leta Cody, a very promising singer, who appeared twice on the programme; Mr. Edward Patch, who has seldom been heard in anything more suited to his voice than "Come Into the Garden Maud," and Miss Kathryn Bradshaw, a gifted musician, whose interpretation of two Chopin compositions was more than merely interesting.

AT THE STREET CORNER

By "The Lounger"

I wish, first of all, to correct a false impression which a paragraph of mine last Sunday has apparently conveyed. I wrote about a returned man who was unable to get the cheque due him from the Patriotic Fund, as nobody was at home to sign same. I used the words "Patriotic Fund," and I was referring to the Canadian Patriotic Fund, with offices in the Winch Building. Unfortunately, some of my readers thought that I was casting a reflection on what is known as "The Federal Emergency Appropriation," with offices in the Belmont Building. In view of the fact that one official of the latter organization had generously foregone his own holiday and had between Good Friday and Easter Monday, inclusive, issued some 150 cheques, I feel it only right to state that, though my original statement was quite correct, it did not apply to "The Federal Emergency Appropriation."

Now let's discuss dogs and boys; and we'll take the former first. I don't know anything about dogs, and that is a very good reason for my writing about them. I know a dog when I see it; he is a square animal with a leg at each corner, a head in front, and, usually, a tail behind, and he is smaller than a horse. Beyond that I know nothing about them, except that personal experience has shown that a mongrel is a much better "pal" than a blue-blooded scion of the canine race. The worst part about a dog is his voice; he has a rotten voice and can't sing, but he will try to. However, there are humans who err in the same direction, and I have suffered from them too. But if you want to hear a real canine concert you should make a point of visiting the Dog Show, 563 Johnson Street, where the Victoria Kennel Club is now holding one of its most successful shows. My ignorance on points does not allow me to appreciate the full beauty of a show of this nature; what I enjoy is wandering around and studying the canine psychology. Some dogs bark all the time; others look so bored that you know that they are wondering what on earth their masters and mistresses are doing to chain them up in a hall for a lot of inquisitive strangers to look at; a third section sleeps peacefully. And then there is the conceited dog, one who knows that he is good-looking and for all the world he acts like a good-looking "dude" who fancies that he is making a hit with the girls. Oh, there's lots of fun to be got out of a dog show, and there is a great deal more human nature in a dog than most people realise.

Dogs, however, are not really half so interesting as boys, and I want to run a couple of paragraphs about the latter because of a notice I saw in the evening paper recently to the effect that the Mayor was going to stop their playing games on Sunday. I sincerely trust that he will reconsider his decision. It was stated that the boys were playing games on the Sabbath and using profane language; nobody is going to uphold them in the latter offence, although it is to be doubted whether the boys are the real culprits. Blasphemous and obscene language is such a characteristic of this country that boys, who are the most imitative of animals, can hardly be blamed for copying the habits of their elders. Rather than prosecute the boys I would prefer to see a real, virile campaign started against the use of vile language by their elders. If the latter set their face against bad language the boys will fall into line all right. Let the Mayor and aldermen state that they intend to purify the speech of the men of the city and let them carry out their intention. For some reason or other the men of this continent have earned the reputation of being the most foul-mouthed of any nation; and it doesn't need a day's journey around the streets, clubs and near-beer bars to show that this reputation is well justified. If a boy hears his elders habitually using horrible expressions he will follow suit, thinking that it is one of the attributes of a man. I say, first clean the mouths of the men and then start in your campaign against the boys.

But with regard to the game-playing on Sundays. Isn't it better to have a healthy, red-blooded boy romping round playing honest games than getting into all the mischief which lies in wait for his idle hands to do? The Anglo-Saxon Sunday has always been a joke, but of recent years men have awakened to the fact that it was not meant to be a day of gloom. Your golf links are crowded on Sundays; during the season every bathing-beach in town is packed with swimmers. Gradually the Anglo-Saxons have been breaking away from that fetish which usually resulted in parsons' sons going to the bad because their Sundays were so miserable. I well remember that on Sundays all the interesting books were packed away; the idea of reading a popular magazine was "anathema;" but I was allowed to regale my infantile intelligence on such gruesome subjects as "Fox's Book of Martyrs" and Dore's illustrations to Dante's "Inferno." Now, I ask you, do you not seriously think that a boy of eight would receive less harmful impressions from some decent magazine than from the two books mentioned? Perhaps you do not know them; let me tell you, then, that in an enlightened ministry many of the illustrations would be barred from publication as verging on the indecent. But that is how the "Victorians" did things; they were never logical.

I am not advocating atheism or agnosticism. I think that boys should be brought up on Christian principles and that they should be sent to church at least once a day on Sundays. But when they have done their duty in this respect why expect them to sit down with dull and gloomy faces to spend the rest of the day in solemn contemplation? The very Founder of Christianity expressly stated that the Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath. He never intended it to be a day of gloom. Consider the French Sunday; I venture to say that as a nation the French are a great deal more religious than the Anglo-Saxons; they go to church and hear mass; they look on their village priest with awe, which is more than we do with our parsons, and then, the religious duty being done, they spend the day in pleasant exercises. They are joyful in their religion; we are the reverse, and for that very reason the church is losing ground every day right here in Canada. No, Mr. Mayor, don't stop the boys enjoying themselves on Sundays, because, so sure as you do, they will fall into worse sin than that of healthy exercise.

The bicycle-stealing scandal is getting out of hand. Victoria is rather noted for the number of bicycles which are in constant use round the town, but they are being stolen with increased regularity, and, apparently, with impunity. I fully realise the difficulties under which the police labor in this matter; one that it is almost impossible to trace a stolen machine, but I do think that a little more trouble might be taken to prevent the thefts. I understand that recently a messenger boy who had just finished paying for his machine on the instalment plan was robbed of his wheel. Wouldn't it be worth while to station a plain clothes man where he could watch for a week or so in the neighborhood of these messenger boys' bicycles? It would be easy for him to get to know the boys by sight, and then if he saw a stranger going off with a wheel he would probably be "grabbing" the culprit who has been victimizing so many riders in town lately. It has been suggested to me that a small tax on bicycles, say of $1 per machine, would be gladly paid by owners if they could thereby get increased protection.

AMERICAN KILLED BY GERMAN SOLDIERS

BERLIN, April 12.—Paul de Mott, of Paterson, N. J., supposed to have been an American citizen, was shot dead by a sentry while trying to escape from the prison at Wesel, where he was being held under death sentence. The Foreign Office has ordered an immediate investigation.

BERLIN, April 13.—The killing of Paul de Mott, of Paterson, N. J., shot recently at Wesel, is caustically commented upon today by the Independent Socialist newspaper Die Freiheit. It describes the incident as a case of "murder by the soldiery, who obviously were afraid the higher court would annul the death sentence."

Reports stated that de Mott had been shot dead by a sentry while trying to escape from the prison at Wesel, where he was being held under death sentence, the cause for which was not stated. An investigation was ordered by the Foreign Office immediately upon receipt of the report.

HIGHER POSTAL RATE EXPECTED IN BRITAIN

LONDON, April 13.—The Chancellor of the Exchequer will introduce the budget next Monday. He will be called upon to make up a deficit of £235,000,000, while the revenue needed amounts to £1,200,000.

The postal letter rate probably will be increased from three halfpence to twopence.

Several important alterations in the income tax will be inaugurated, giving additional relief to married people, especially with children. The Postmaster-General states that there is no intention of increasing press telegram rates, although some assert the present loss on this traffic is £200,000 yearly.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The British Colonist of April 14, 1870.)

From the Mainland—The steamer Enterprise, Captain Swanson, arrived from New Westminster at 4:30 last evening, bringing $50,000 in gold and a few passengers, amongst whom were Mr. and Mrs. F. Y. Lee, C. Brown and Rev. T. Somerville. There is a good deal of snow on the wagon road from the Green Timber to the One Hundred Mile Post and from Quesnelle to the diggings. There had been no new arrivals from Peace River.....The sale of lots at Granville (Vancouver) took place on Monday last, when the following purchases were made: A large lot by J. Deighton, which brought $135; lot by H. Brown at the upset price of $100, and a lot by G. Fernandez at $100. One-half the purchase money in each case was paid in cash.....The Fraser River is slowly rising.

Editorial Amenities—The Evening News has lived a year and a day. The cesspools and other nuisances should be suppressed instanter and the Father of Dirt permitted to exist as a nocturnal nosegay for a year and a day augurs but poorly for the impartiality of the Mayor and Council. The cesspool ought to protest against dying while The News is allowed to live on undisturbed.

DR. CLARKE CONDEMNS EDUCATION SYSTEM

WINNIPEG, April 13.—"Our whole school system is wrong, in that it is based on the misconception that all children are alike," declared Dr. C. E. Clarke, of the University of Toronto, chairman of the National Council on Mental Hygiene, in an address before the provincial convention on Christian brotherhood, last evening.

"Approximately sixty per cent of the school children are of average mentality, twenty per cent are above the average and twenty per cent below," Dr. Clarke declared. "Of the last-named, about fifteen per cent are low type morons." The idea that all mental defectives should be placed in institutions and shut up tight was erroneous, the speaker said. Much could be done by education and training through special classes in schools.

Dr. Clarke declared that the council looked to the West in making its health crusade, illustrating the advances made in Manitoba and British Columbia.

HOUSE APPROVES OF PROHIBITION BILL

Despite Objections Voiced by Members for Newcastle and Alberni Amendments to Existing Act Are Passed

After a two hours' debate, much of it more or less extraneous to the principle of the measure before the House, the second reading of the bill to amend the Prohibition Act was passed in the Legislature yesterday afternoon.

The bill, designed to tighten up the existing act by reducing the amount of liquor that may be prescribed to eight ounces, cutting the number of prescriptions to be issued monthly to 100 for any one doctor, regulating the sale of extracts, essences, etc., and making other important changes in the present law, had brought out a greater display of heat in debate than any other measure before the House this session.

As appropriate to the matter, Hon. Dr. MacLean submitted statistics asked for on Saturday by Major Burde, showing the increase in insane patients over the period from 1914 to 1919. These figures showed the following total number of inmates in the Provincial mental hospitals for those years: 1914, 1,027; 1915, 1,090; 1916, 1,205; 1917, 1,301; 1918, 1,347; 1919, 1,479. The Minister stated that there were several explanations for the increase one being that during the war it was impossible to have deported a number of alien insane, and some of these, about forty-five, were still to be sent back.

"Hot Stuff"

Mr. George Bell commented upon the "hot stuff" which had developed in the speeches by the Attorney-General, Mr. Bowser and the Premier, when they spoke on the bill. He considered the Attorney-General was justified in answering the charges made by Mr. Bowser concerning "higher-ups" and prescription evils. He did not blame the leader of the Opposition, when seeing his chances of being returned to power fading away, for grasping a subject prominent in the minds of the people and seeking to make the most of it. Nor could he blame the Premier for rallying to the aid of the Attorney-General. But in view of this super-heated atmosphere he hoped the debate would be continued with cooler feelings. He considered the present Government had played fair on the question of prohibition, and asserted that the "blackest blotch" on the fair name and reputation of British Columbia had been put there by the liquor interests. It was true the Prohibitionists selected Findlay for the position of commissioner, and the Attorney-General had appointed him because of that selection. He believed Mr. Bowser, when leader of the Government, had done the proper thing in accepting the bill drafted by the Prohibitionists and submitting it to the people. But he resented Mr. Bowser's suggestion that the present Government was using the question in an effort to secure return to power.

Mr. Bell was quite ready to believe that much that had been said by the Opposition leader concerning the evils of the permit system had been exaggerated, and he instanced the case of "Sandy" McRae, who, it developed, had got but two quarts under his permit. Today, he asserted, no permits were in force in the Province. All those issued in 1919 terminated at the end of that year, and those issued this year were for three months only, and they, too, were now all expired. He supported Mr. Bowser's objections to the provision allowing one doctor to take the affidavit of another in cases where more than eight ounces were prescribed, and he was sure the doctors themselves would welcome the elimination of that provision.

No Insult

Mr. Bell hoped the doctors would not regard the eight-ounce limitation as an insult, because it was not intended as such. The Prohibitionists were unanimous in asking for it, but even were it a slight reflection upon the doctors, the fact that $16,000 prescriptions had been issued under the present act, a tremendous figure, showing the past abuse of the prescription system, justified the reduction. Even if the act had not been an entire success, there could be no doubt that it greatly helped to eliminate the evils of liquor, and it was up to the House to strengthen the regulations to permit of still greater improvement. He quoted from the 1907 report of the New Westminster Mental Hospital to show that alcohol and heredity were the two outstanding causes of insanity, and he cited figures to show that the inmates of the New Westminster Penitentiary had decreased from 345 in 1912 to 114 at present, a significant fact, he considered. The Dominion penitentiary statistics showed that the total of inmates dropped for the first time below the 1,900 mark in 1917, and that today it is 1,530. He criticized the attitude of the press of the country on the great prohibition issue, especially a recent editorial in The Colonist, which had cited statements by the Chief of Police of Toronto to the effect that crime is increasing in that city. He had written to that official, he informed the House, and in reply had received a statement to the effect that the latter had referred to the increase in crime consequent upon the unsettled conditions due to the war.

Mr. Bell was convinced the amendments were an honest attempt to make the Prohibition Act more workable. If they proved too extreme, the people would have opportunity under the coming plebiscite to say so. If they approved of the Act, then the amendments were absolutely necessary to strengthen the weak places, he said.

Effect of Passion

Declaring that the prohibition issue was almost invariably carried on a wave of heat and passion when the people's minds had been worked up by skilfully conducted campaigns, Mr. Hawthornthwaite expressed his belief that it is the duty of every public man to state his position. He disputed Mr. Bell's argument that alcohol is the chief cause of insanity, asserting that over-indulgence was. Unquestionably the vast majority of people favored temperance but not prohibition, and he quoted at length from statistical data to show that more convictions were secured for various crimes in the prohibition states in the United States than in the non-prohibition states. He cited the undoubted increase in the use of drugs, asserting prohibition everywhere had been followed by a wave of drug taking, and already the press of the country was chronicling the alarming condition not alone in British Columbia, but elsewhere where prohibition was in force.

It seemed to Mr. Hawthornthwaite that prohibition itself was a species of insanity with some people who imagined that with its advent the whole world was to be at once changed. He asserted it was idle to imagine that drunkenness had ceased in British Columbia. Only the night before on his way to the House he had passed four men under the influence. So long as there was a profit to be had liquor would be sold.

Mr. Hawthornthwaite asserted a great many prohibitionists were church people and the church was always seeking temporal power. He supposed the next step by these enthusiasts would be to ban smoking. They have already started to do that in the States. It was an undoubted fact that if people were told not to do a thing they immediately desired to do it. Why should a referendum be put, he asked, when the members of the House should be big enough to decide the question themselves. The referendum, as he saw it, was merely an effort by the Government to get a line on how the country will go at the next election. He was glad the old style of bar was gone, but he advocated that the state should carry on the manufacture, distribution and sale of liquor without profit. In case Government control were approved it would be a mistake to permit sale even of light wines and beer in hotels. If he were Premier the Province would take over the control of the liquor trade and bring about a condition where a man would be given the right to live in freedom, he said.

A Suggestion

Major Burde thought the prohibition question was one of passion rather than an even public mind. He suggested that the Attorney-General, Mr. Bowser and the Premier, if they had any old-time political questions to thresh out might adjourn to the dome or roof and fight it out, leaving the rest of the House to deal with present day problems. The Premier's speech in the debate had been more of a screech, he opined. He held that it was a case of the present act being bad and not the administration thereof. He resented Mr. Bowser's reference to Patrick Donnohue, of Port Albernl, asserting that individual had died from a dizzy spell, perhaps induced by too much rum, but when it had been found that he had been abusing his permit it had been cancelled. The very severity of the Act in requiring a jail sentence for a first offence for selling had defeated itself in that magistrates, wherever they could, refused to inflict such a drastic punishment and reduced the charge to one of being in possession. To send a man to jail meant placing a financial burden upon the municipality in maintaining the prisoner in jail.

It was patent when one element, fanatics upon a question, frame legislation the result would be "rotten legislation," declared Major Burde, who referred to the result of some reform methods by stating that when recently in Vancouver on a Sunday he was unable to buy an apple but he could buy cigars and the bars were running wide open. He had no use for that apple for, he admitted, he was not drinking chiefly for the reason that there was no good whisky these days, that the prohibitionists and the bootleggers had "poisoned the market." It was a fact that at the forthcoming referendum the prohibitionist and the bootlegger would be found marking their ballots on the same spot. The spread of the drug habit was becoming alarming for not everyone could stock his cellar or afford to pay the price of a prescription. The Attorney-General in his effort to stop the sale of extracts and essences was not going far enough, he ought to include bay rum, Florida Water and perfumes, for it was a fact those articles were being freely consumed. The prohibitionists were wont to appeal for the weaker brother, but the fact was it was the latter who was becoming the drug fiend under existing conditions. The prohibition party having secured its paper victory had forgotten its campaign of education, he considered.

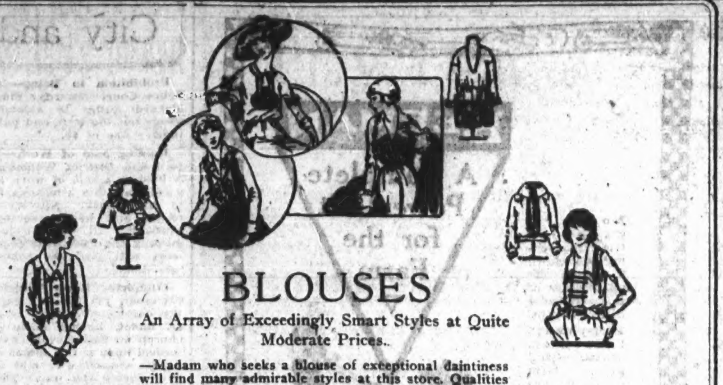

Voted Twice

Major Burde, referring to the soldiers' vote overseas, said he had voted twice against prohibition, once at Bramshott and once at the front, and many other men had done the same. He was not then voting against prohibition but against the Act. How many members of the Legislature could stand on the floor and say they had not broken the Act in some manner, he asked.

Mrs. Smith said much had been heard about the failure of the Act and the failure to enforce it. But the fact was being lost sight of that much of the legislation passed since the war broke out was experimental in nature. She did not consider prohibition had been altogether a failure, but rather, up to a certain extent, it had proved a success. What failure there had been was due largely to the prohibition people themselves in failing to provide a substitute. Speaking as a mother of a family and one who had always supported prohibition, it was her conviction that to a great extent the spread of the drug habit and the drinking of extracts, etc., would have been obviated had there been coffee palaces or other similar places to fill the want created by the removal of the saloon. To very many the elimination of the bars took away what for them had been the social club, the place of meeting. This problem had been successfully met in England, she stated.

Mrs. Smith regretted the disposition on the part of some to undervalue prohibition. She would support the bill, for she was convinced that prohibition was better for business, and especially, in the best interests of the women and children. She was convinced the Government was doing the proper thing by putting the plebiscite before the people rather than having the House decide it offhand. She hoped the people would be satisfied to abide upon the result of that vote. There was no occasion to become sentimental or panicky. If the needs and wishes of the people were met, in whatever shape the reform took, it would redound to the benefit of the people she was certain.

The bill was given its second reading.

DOMINION ALLIANCE MAKES "DRY" MOVES

OTTAWA, April 13.—At the meeting of the council of the Dominion Alliance held in Chalmers Church yesterday afternoon, J. E. Carson, of Montreal, was appointed president, and Miles Vokes, former president, was elected vice-president.

Rev. Ben Spence handed out a statement to the press, as the meeting was in camera, which in part read:

"The committee on policy and organization recommend that the work of all the Provinces of the Dominion should be to urge the respective legislatures to exercise their powers as regards the liquor traffic to the fullest extent and that the distribution of such alcoholic liquors as allowed for sacramental, industrial, scientific and mechanical purposes be placed exclusively in the hands of boards especially appointed by the Government."

The council pledged itself to direct all possible efforts in the interest of prohibition whenever the Legislature of any Province adopts a resolution asking the Governor-General in council for a referendum on the question of prohibiting the importation of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes.

A budget of $25,000 was recommended in view of the growing importance of securing Dominion prohibition legislature and in the face of the growing demand for assistance in this world-wide movement to combat alcoholism.

It was decided to create sub-executive groups in the Maritime Provinces and in Western Canada.

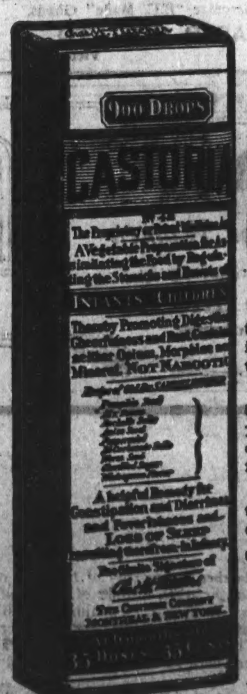

Plans for Temple of Peace

LOS ANGELES, April 13.—Plans for the proposed construction here of a temple of peace and commerce, to cost $20,000,000, were announced today by the Society of American Republics.

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupify, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. To avoid any possibility of giving your child opiates, or narcotics of any kind, keep Fletcher's Castoria in the house, and Save the Babies.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Let's Think It Over.

There is such a thing as saying too much on any subject, and the "grand-stand" talker sooner or later becomes a bore. The truth is always welcomed, and the truth reiterated and confirmed is more than welcome—it reaches your innermost soul.

Fletcher's Castoria is all its advertising has claimed for it. Scrutinized by the microscope of public opinion and used for over thirty years it stands without a peer in the hearts of thoughtful, cautious, discerning Mothers. And once used, mother love—there is no substitute for mother love—will scorn to try a "substitute" or a "just-as-good".

Masquerading under many names drugs that are injurious to the tender babe have found their way into some households, but the light of experience soon casts them out. Are they cast out before it is too late?

Holding Sale of Work—The Langford and District Women's Auxiliary is holding a sale of work in the Colwood Hall this afternoon from three to six o'clock. Afternoon tea, ice cream and home cooking will be available. At eight o'clock in the evening the Footlights Comedy Company will give the comedy sketch "Mr. Bob."

Completes Brass Tablet—Mr. Geo. Crowther, the Victoria engraver, has just completed another brass memorial tablet, having made one for a church on Salt Spring Island and inscribed upon it the names of the men of the church who laid down their lives during the war. The tablet is on view in the window of the Kent Edison store on Government Street.

Engineering Institute of Canada—A meeting will be held in the Arts and Crafts Room of the Provincial Library this evening at 8 o'clock, at which a paper, illustrated by lantern slides, will be read by E. P. Girdwood, M.E.I.C., on "River Bank Protection, Roads and Bridges." The lecture is open to anyone interested in this subject. Entrance will be by way of the east door of the new library addition.

Stenographers Raise Scale—At a meeting of public stenographers of the city held on Monday evening the question of charges was thoroughly discussed. In view of the fact that these have remained stationary for the past five or six years, while living costs have more than doubled, it was felt that some increase was imperative. A new scale of charges was therefore drawn up and will be generally adopted.

Girls' Corner Club—One of the most popular girls' clubs in the city is the Girls' Corner Club and a large number of business girls gather weekly in the spacious club rooms at Oddfellows' Hall where a dainty supper is prepared and served at 6:15 p.m., and anyone calling at the above named place between six and eight on Thursday evenings will find a very happy band of girls. This week the supper is being prepared by the Ladies' Aid of the Metropolitan Church.

Garden Fete at "Mount Joy"—The beautiful grounds of "Mount Joy," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Pemberton, at Foul Bay, are to be the scene of a very attractive garden fete to be held under the auspices of the Women's Canadian Club, the emergency fund of which organization will benefit from the proceeds. No entertainment features have been arranged to conflict with the privilege accorded visitors to wander about the gardens, which are dressed in their brightest Spring array, presenting a very charming setting for an event that will undoubtedly be largely attended, but tea is to be served throughout the afternoon, indoors. As the affair is to be open to the public the club is expecting that a large number of men will avail themselves of the invitation to be present.

G. W. V. A. TAKING OVER K. OF C. HUT

Well-Known Hostel on Fort Street to Continue Operation on Old Lines and With Same Staff

The Great War Veterans' Association will take over at midnight tonight the K. of C. Army Hut on Fort Street and will operate it with the same staff as at present and along the same lines. The present quarters on Fort Street used by the G.W.V.A. will be maintained for the present until the necessary notice has been given.

Comrade Johnson reported the taking over of the hut at the G.W.V.A meeting last night.

Comrade Berry gave further details of the Dominion convention in the East. The financial report for the year had shown that the organization had $40,500 in the bank and a quarter of a million members fully paid up. A committee was formed at the convention to form Dominion and Provincial organizations of ladies' auxiliaries, wives, mothers and daughters being eligible.

President McKenzie, head of the Vancouver branch of the G.W.V.A., was present at last night's gathering. He spoke of the loyalty expressed at the convention, and stated that the Government pledged a substantial increase in pensions.

The members of the G.W.V.A. will attend in a body the memorial service at St. John's Church on Sunday, commencing at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. They will gather at the present headquarters on Fort Street.

The question of the amalgamation of all ex-service organizations was discussed last night and the local branch expressed itself as in favor of such a move. A committee has already been named by the Dominion body to bring about such an amalgamation.

ALDERMAN FLOUTS CURFEW BELL PLAN

Parks Committee Chairman Says It Would Be An Anachronism Now —Mayor is Silent

Anticipating an interview with the Local Council of Women on the proposal to re-establish the curfew bell in Victoria, Mayor Porter last night declined to express an opinion relative to the issue.

Other members of the Council, however, were only too eager to talk. "It is a sign of the futile ages," declared Ald. Edwyn B. Andros, who heads the committee which supervises the parks of the city. "The curfew bell will do nobody any good. The proposal harks back to medieval times, and it would be an anachronism now."

"Not a word," replied the Mayor when asked about the suggestion of the Local Council of Women. Several months ago, when the curfew plan was proposed, the Mayor said that a curfew for parents would be appropriate.

NOVA SCOTIA MINERS CONSIDER PROTEST

TRURO, N.S., April 13.—The United Mine Workers, in convention here yesterday, discussed the question of new contracts, and finally passed a resolution that if any new contracts are made they shall be for a period of two years, subject to revision every four months, or in the event of changed economic conditions.

A telegram from the West asking co-operation in a country-wide parade protest on May 1, initiated in Winnipeg, to arouse public sentiment against the conviction of the imprisoned strikers, was read. On motion it was referred to the secretary, who was authorized to ask the locals what they chose to do about it.

If a majority of the locals favored it, the day would be made a holiday for parade and protest purposes.

"FIDDLE-FIT"

Keep Liver and Bowels Clean and Active with "Cascarets"

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, sour, gassy stomach—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will have you feeling clear, rosy and as fit as a fiddle by morning. They work while you sleep.

DOMINION RUBBER SYSTEM

ITS POLICY IS YET TO BE DETERMINED

Premier, in Reply to Objections to Cost of B. C. House, London, Fails to Satisfy Curiosity of Members.

"This was one of the problems left to us by the late Government but which we have not as yet had time to deal with. The Government will take up the matter when it can, and if the people of this Province do not like the action taken by the Government they have the remedy in their own hands."

In this cryptic fashion Premier Oliver, in the Legislature yesterday, replied to the request of some members for a pronouncement of the Government's policy in respect of the future of British Columbia House, the London quarters of the Agent-General for the Province.

The subject was introduced when the estimates of expenditure for the London office were under consideration. The House, when it rose at 2:15 a.m. yesterday morning left a few items of expenditure still to be dealt with and the outlays for the Agent-General's office were among these.

There was a lengthy discussion relative to the fact, as stated by Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, that owing to the adverse exchange members of the London staff, being paid on the basis of the dollar were profiting through conversion of dollar currency into sterling, but now arrangements had been made whereby funds to London would be cabled and such profits eliminated.

The estimates called for outlays of $19,600 for staff salaries; $9,550 for expenses, and $55,300 for charges on the building, a total of $84,450.

Mr. Gioima, soldier member for Victoria, suggested that in view of the 20,000 newcomers to British Columbia last year and the expected 25,000 Imperials to come this year, the Government should eliminate all unnecessary outlays. He moved that $84,450 be cut to $50,000 with the idea of securing an expression of opinion from the House. Personally he favored arrangements for the sale or lease of British Columbia House.

"It is a fine building but a luxury," said Colonel McIntosh, who urged disposing of the building, using the proceeds on necessary work at home, and placing the Agent-General in less pretentious but more suitable quarters in London.

Mr. Charles Nelson said rentals today aggregated $37,500. He thought if the Province could make arrangements whereby the Dominion would take over the building for its High Commissioner and house the various Provincial agent-generals therein great economies could be effected.

The Agent-General's office was a business that was not paying, declared Mr. J. W. Weart, who figured it out that it is costing the Province annually $17,500 for the space the Agent-General is using. There was something wrong when a building of such a fine type and in such a valuable location in the great city of London was returning, but about $2,000 per month in rentals.

In view of the fact that the Liberals, when in opposition had repeatedly condemned the late Government for erecting British Columbia House and had promised, if they were elected, to deal with it to the end of ridding the Province of the financial burden imposed, Mr. G. S. Hanes considered it was about time that the party, having been in power for four years, took steps to show its pre-election pledges meant something.

Hon. Mr. Hart informed the House that the Province has invested $335,000 in the building and, in addition, there is a mortgage for $291,000 which latter calls for annual outlays of $9,700 on account of principal and $12,125 for interest, this mortgage expiring in 1954. The lease of the site was for ninety-nine years, he said.

Mr. Willson objected to so many frills overseas when money was required for development purposes at home, and Mr. Kenneth Duncan asserted that what he had seen of the building and the work of the Agent-General when in London convinced him a great deal of good work is being done, but the present building might be sold he thought, though it would be a mistake to do away with the Agent-General's office there which could be adequately housed elsewhere and closer to the other Provincial headquarters.

Mr. George Bell pointed to the fact that cost exceeds revenue by over $6,000 per year, and there was the large capital expenditure in addition, but Mr. F. J. A. MacKenzie, who saw great opportunities for good work, suggested that if the Agent-General kept the best portion of the building for his own purposes, it was patent there would be difficulty in renting the remainder.

A "peanut attitude" towards the matter was deprecated by Mr. J. H. Hawthornthwaite, who pointed out the building had never been put up as a rental proposition but as a Provincial enterprise. He could remember the howl that went up when the present Provincial legislative buildings were erected. No one could suggest that the latter were designed to return a revenue. The Province was bound to go ahead and it was good business to have headquarters in London that were a credit to the Province and which would have the effect of bringing in capital and immigration. The advertising features of the structure should not be lost sight of, he considered.

Mr. Cowper referred to the great demand for business premises in London, to the rapidly increasing rentals and thought the present was an excellent time to get rid of what has proved a "white elephant."

Mr. Bowser asked if the Government intended to deal with the future policy in regard to British Columbia House or if it at present possessed a policy what it might be. The answer he got was that of the Premier as quoted above.

Mr. Gioima's amendment to reduce the vote was defeated, being supported only by Messrs. Burde, McIntosh, Gioima, Hanes, Willson and Cowper.

THREE MILLIONS FOR UNIVERSITY PURPOSES

Bill Introduced in House Yesterday Will Permit of Start Being Made Upon Buildings at Point Grey Site

A loan of $3,000,000 to provide for expenditures under the new policy of the Government relating to the University of British Columbia, whereby it is proposed to inaugurate the building plan at Point Grey and make a start upon the erection of the university structures, was tabled in the Legislature yesterday afternoon.

It is the proposal of the Government to cancel the reserve placed upon 2,000,000 acres of land in various portions of the Province, and hand over in lieu thereof for the use of the university some 3,000 acres of Government land adjoining the university site in Point Grey. These 3,000 acres will be laid out into lots and improvements installed, and as sold the money derived therefrom will go to meeting the moneys advanced under the loan to the university for construction purposes, such moneys to be paid into a university endowment fund. But a portion of the loan will be utilized this year, it is stated.

With the present bill there are now four bills before the house calling for loans aggregating $13,800,000.

A bill to provide for the defining of the lands recently reverting to the Crown, lands granted by the Province in 1896 as subsidies to the British Columbia Southern Railway and the Columbia and Western Railway, was tabled by Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, and given its first reading. Owing to the doubt which exists as to which lands passed to the railways because of certain reservations made at the time, the bill provides that in lieu of a survey being undertaken, certain regulations governing applications for title by parties now claiming rights will be made effective.

A bill brought down by Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines, provided for the extension of three hydraulic mining leases for a period of thirty years to the Cariboo Gold Mining Company, on property in the Cariboo section which was recently the subject of litigation, and which, by a decision of the Privy Council, last year, was awarded to Robert Ward and associates. The bill is the final outcome of the long-drawn-out litigation between the Ward and Hoppe interests, a dispute which has twice come before the Legislature, a select committee of which has passed upon the merits of the case.

ASKS DOWER RIGHTS FOR WOMEN OF B. C.

North Vancouver's Member Wants Concession Made — Last Year's House Approved Principle

The extension of dower rights to women in order to secure for them a one-third interest in realty owned by their husbands is being called for in a resolution which Mr. G. S. Hanes, soldier member for North Vancouver, has given notice he will move in the Legislature. It sets forth that whereas it is desirable that such dower rights should be granted, that in the opinion of the House the Government should immediately take into consideration the advisability of introducing legislation at the present session to effect this reform.

Mr. Hanes' resolution comes as a sort of reminder to the Government that at last year's session a similar resolution was unanimously passed by the House approving of the principle and calling for the introduction at this year's session of legislation granting dower rights to the women. Last year's resolution was moved by Dr. K. C. Macdonald, North Okanagan, and seconded by Mr. A. Macdonald, Vancouver. So far this session,—and the House is expected to rise within the next two or three days—there has been no sign of the legislation the House decided last year should be brought down.

In view of the difficulties which have arisen over the question of title to mineral areas in the E. & N. railway belt and other questions which have arisen out of the original grant by the Dominion Government to the E. & N. Railway Company of 2,100,000 acres of land as a land grant, Mr. H. C. Hall will present to the Legislature a resolution calling for the appointment of a Royal Commission to inquire into and report its findings upon the following matters:

"(1.) The amount paid by the Canadian Pacific Railway for purchase of the said Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway Company or the shares of the said Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway Company.

"(2.) The total revenue and expenditure of said Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway Company from said purchase to date.

"(3.) The cost and value of any equipment supplied by Canadian Pacific Railway Company to Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway Company.

"(4.) The present value of the assets of said railway company.

"(5.) The value of the assets of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway Company apart from the railway and its equipment.

"(6.) Any matters relating or incidental to the above."

Simple Way to End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

THE JOKE WILL NOT BEAR REPETITION

Suit in Progress in the County Court Outcome of Lady's Idea That Former Legalities Were Joke

The dangers which lie in wait for the possessor of a too-peremptory sense of humor were exemplified in the County Court yesterday, when the civil suit of Lucas vs. Martin came up for hearing before His Honor Judge Lampman. In this case the defendant, Mrs. Martin, seeks to have a former judgment by default which was entered against her set aside on the grounds that she thought the former proceedings were a joke.

The original suit as brought by the plaintiff was for the recovery of the amount of a certain cheque drawn by the defendant in favor of the plaintiff, and payment of which was stopped by order of the defendant. In that suit judgment by default was entered in favor of plaintiff. The defendant now seeks to have that judgment set aside, and applies for leave to enter a defence. She thought it was all a joke, claiming to have given the amount of the cheque to the daughter of the plaintiff, in cash, and on a date subsequent to that of the cheque.

The proceedings in court yesterday were mainly concerned with the cross-examination of the defendant by Mr. C. L. Harrison, who is appearing for the plaintiff in the case. The contention of the plaintiff is that the alleged cash payment never took place at all, and the issue is narrowed to a direct question of veracity as between the contending parties. His Honor Judge Lampman took occasion to comment in severe language on the view taken by the defendant of the former proceedings that they must have been a joke. He thought that by this time the joke, such as it was, must somewhat have lost its savor.

An adjournment of the case was taken until next Friday, when Mr. Harrison will introduce testimony on behalf of the plaintiff in direct contradiction of the cash payment allegation of the defence. Mr. R. C. Lowe is conducting the case for the defendant.

IT COULD NOT BE CONTEMPT OF COURT

But Will the Mystery Ever Be Cleared Up of Why Lady Had Twice to Hear Formula, "Order in Court"?

A little human touch came to relieve the sombre tones and austere lines of a certain Victoria courtroom, at the end of a rather wearisome case yesterday. There was only one spectator in court, a lady, who came in a few minutes before the court adjourned. As the Judge rose to leave the courtroom, the customary formality of respect was observed by the rising of all others of those present, with one exception. That exception was the lady referred to.

The clerk of the court, noticing this incident, uttered, in the blandest and mildest of tones, the formula in such cases made and provided, "Order in Court." The lady continued to sit, with a serenity and regardlessness of such mere courtly fripperies worthy of the immortal Captain Bunsby himself, what time he beheld visions on the coast of Greenland. Again, and with a promptitude that suggested an almost impish appreciation of humors lying below the surface of things, the clerk repeated the ancient formula. And this time, with a smile of amusement, the lady rose.

The moral of the story, as Sam Weller would say, lies in the application of it. The lady was the wife of the Judge.

MEMORIAL PLAQUES TO BE DISTRIBUTED

OTTAWA, April 13.—The next of kin of every Canadian soldier killed in the war, or who may die within the next year from causes attributable to his service during the war, is to receive a handsome memorial plaque and scroll, accompanied by a message from His Majesty the King.

An announcement to this effect was made by the Militia Department today. The memorial will come from the British Government, which will bear the entire expense in connection with the issue.

The records branch here is now preparing nominal rolls for dispatch to England, in return for which the number required for distribution in Canada will be sent out.

AMENDING MARRIAGE LAW FOR ONTARIO

TORONTO, April 13. — Second reading was given in the Legislature yesterday to an amendment to the Marriage Act, which would take the issuing of marriage licences out of the hands of the present agents and vest the powers in the clerks of organized municipalities and in persons appointed for unorganized districts. The latter would be allowed to retain all fees collected.

Fees would be fixed at $5 a licence, except where special reductions or increases may be authorized by order-in-council. The amendment also would authorize the issuing of licences from the office of the Provincial Secretary.

The bill was introduced by Dr. H. A. Stevenson, Labor member for London.

GRADUATE NURSES MEET

Local Organization Hears Report of Delegate at Recent Provincial Meeting.

There was a good attendance of members at the monthly meeting of the Victoria Graduate Nurses' Association, held at the Victoria Club last evening.

The report of the Provincial Association's annual meeting in Vancouver last week as given by the local delegate, Miss Muriel Grimmer, was received with much interest and she was also appointed to represent the Victoria Association at the annual convention of the National Graduate Nurses' Association to be held in the Twin Cities—Fort William and Port Arthur—in July.

Miss Herbert consented to reconsider her resignation, which she had tendered owing to the illness of her mother, and will continue to act as president for the present. It was decided to canvass the graduate nurses of the city for funds to assist in the establishment of training schools for native girls in China. Plans were also discussed for increasing the association's membership and each member was urged to bring another member to the next meeting.

His Policy Is "Free Beer"

PARIS, April 13.—Montmartre, the famous artist colony, has declared its independence by electing its own mayor. He is Jules de Painquit, a cartoonist, whose plataform was brief, being simply "free beer." Only one vote was cast against him, and investigation has diclosed that the casting of that was due to "temporary mental aberration" on the part of the voter.

WOULD-BE SUICIDE HAS TOO MANY WIVES

LOS ANGELES, April 13.—"Walter Andrew Watson," who has been known to the police and sheriff's office here as Richard Huirt, was slowly recovering today at the county hospital from self-inflicted wounds in his neck and wrists made in two attempts at suicide. Huirt was guarded by two deputy sheriffs and a hospital interne.

After a morning spent in examining Huirt's effects, the police engaged in the work announced that they had found letters and documents from which they concluded that they could add seven more wives to the former list of 20.

SUSPECTED OF PLOT TO ROB RELATIVE

WALLA WALLA, Wash., April 13.—G. J. Melton and his 12-year-old son Arnold, strangers here, are held for investigation under suspicion that they coaxed Benjamin Gunderson, of Rossborough, Sask., to come here in order that they might rob him.

Gunderson is Melton's brother-in-law. He received a letter some days ago, signed by his nephew, inviting him to come to Walla Walla with $500. The letter explained that G. J. Melton, the boy's father, had been killed in an automobile accident.

The prosecuting attorney and police allege that there is evidence to indicate a plan either to blackmail or kill their victim. There was no accident or death.

LOCAL HOUSE SELLS LADYSMITH HOLDINGS

Mutual Trading Co. Purchases Store of Simon Leiser & Co.—Cumberland Drygoods Department Sold

The Mutual Trading Co., Limited, with an authorized capital of $100,000, has just been incorporated and purchased the whole of the Ladysmith stock of drygoods, boots and shoes and groceries belonging to Simon Leiser & Co., Limited, of Victoria, according to last Saturday's issue of The Ladysmith Chronicle. The new company comprise J. M. MacCormick, J. E. O'Shea and H. M. Mathews. Mr. MacCormick was formerly a resident of the Skeena River for several years previous to his going overseas with the 6th Battalion Canadian Engineers, while Mr. O'Shea and Mr. Mathews have been residents of Vancouver, the latter being a returned soldier. The Ladysmith stock of goods purchased represented a consideration of $50,000 and it is the intention of the Mutual Trading Co. to greatly increase their stock in the near future in order to meet the steadily growing requirements of the trade.

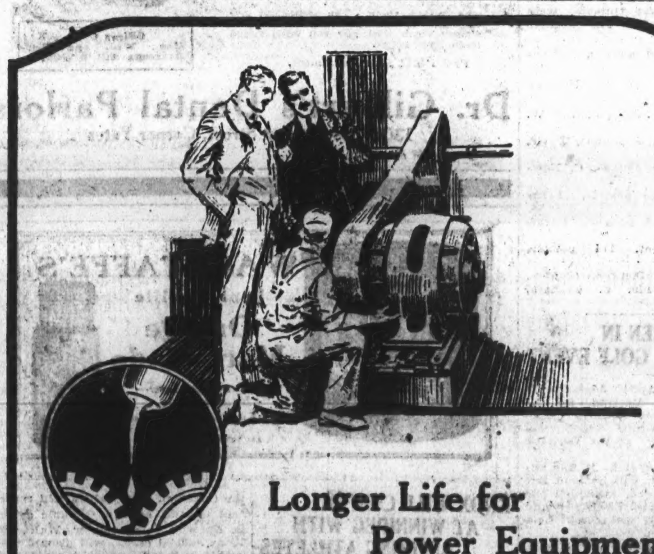

Mr. Herbert Macklin, of Simon Leiser & Co., Limited, Victoria, who represented his company in the present deal, stated to a representative of The Chronicle that he had just closed a transaction whereby the dry goods department at Cumberland belonging to his company was sold to Mr. John Sutherland who formerly was an employee of the firm for the past twelve or fourteen years, the consideration price being in the neighborhood of $30,000, but at Cumberland it was the intention of Simon Leiser & Co., Ltd., to carry on its grocery business with an increased stock.

The Simon Leiser & Co., Limited, own several other branch stores on Vancouver Island which will be operated under present management and with greater facilities. It is the intention of the company to dispose only of the dry goods portion of its business as groceries are its special line. Mr. Macklin further stated that capital was pouring into British Columbia and particularly Vancouver Island seeking investment in commercial enterprises. Mr. Macklin returns to Victoria on Saturday.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, April 13.—The Women's Institute held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, April 8. They had a particularly interesting meeting.

The resignation of Miss Calder, who is leaving for Scotland, was received with sincere regret. Miss Calder will be much missed, as she was at all times ready to co-operate in any movement for the benefit of the community. Mrs. M. Young was appointed secretary in her place.

Dallas Square, opposite the Post-office, will be the site of the War Memorial, the exact spot to be chosen by the properties committee, the memorial committee and Mr. J. E. T. Millins, the architect of the memorial.

SCOTTISH PROGRAMME PRESENTED IN SIDNEY

Address on Burns Given by Rev. J. G. Inkster and Musical Entertainment by Quartette

SIDNEY, B. C., April 13.—A Scottish entertainment presented in the Princess Theatre here last night in aid of the funds of the local Presbyterian Church was largely attended and proved one of Sidney's most enjoyable Spring programmes. The Rev. J. G. Inkster, of Victoria, gave a lecture on the "Poems of Bobby Burns," which was illustrated with lantern slides by Mr. W. Huxtable, and a quartette from the Young People's Society of the First Presbyterian Church, of Victoria, gave a programme of Scottish songs and Mr. James Walker offered several recitations in keeping with the subject tone of the entertainment. Rev. F. Letts presided.

The address by Rev. Mr. Inkster was interspersed with reminiscences and bright stories of the Land of the Heather and was enjoyable throughout. Many of the slides were especially prepared and illustrated details of the talk in an interesting manner.

The quartette, which was composed of Miss Lily Christie, Miss Christina Hamilton, Mr. J. M. Thomas and Mr. J. Petrie, was especially pleasing in solos, duets and quartettes. Mr. John Smith played the accompaniments for the singing and gave pianoforte solo selections.

The evening was concluded in a supper served by the ladies of the congregation, and the Victoria party, which numbered more than twenty, left for Victoria shortly after 11 o'clock.

DISMANTLING CAMP AT WILLIAM HEAD

Major F. B. Edwards and Other Military Engaged in "Chinese Repatriation" Return to Victoria Today

The Chinese repatriation camp, which was opened at William Head last September in connection with the Orientals who were engaged in the Allied labor battalions in France during the late war, and who returned via Victoria to their native land, has been dismantled, and scows plying between that point and Victoria will return the tents, blankets and other equipment to the Military Ordnance Stores within the next few days.

This camp has been quite unique, not only in the history of Victoria, but in the history of Canada. The war created universally unusual conditions, but nowhere else in the Dominion did there spring into existence a human clearing station on quite such an extensive scale as at William Head, through which some 60,000 Chinese have passed since September last.

Major F. B. Edwards, who has been camp commandant since the organization of the camp, nearly eight months ago, returns to Victoria today, and he and the other officers and military are to be demobilized immediately, the last of the Chinese labor battalions having been cleared some ten days ago. Among those to be demobilized are the guard of the Canadian Military Police Corps, in charge of Major John Hirsch.

WANT GOVERNMENT TO GUARD SUGAR SUPPLY

West Saanich Women's Institute Wants Authorities to See That Sugar Is Available for Canning Season

The resolution recently passed by the Cobble Hill Women's Institute asking that the Government handle enough sugar to ensure a supply during the canning season was heartily endorsed by the West Saanich Women's Institute at a meeting yesterday afternoon.

The Institute heard an address from Miss Winn, the well-known educationist, on "Citizenship." She pointed out that most good citizens were formed in childhood and that habits formed in young folks decided good or bad citizenship. She recommended a certain amount of responsibility for a child in order to develop character. The value of Women's Institutes in aiding the teachers in the schools was also referred to by the speaker.

The Institute decided to donate $10 to the needy settlers of Alberta, and also $10 to the orphans of France.

The organization is holding its regular fortnightly military five hundred tournament tonight in the Institute rooms at Sluggett's.

SESSION DEALS WITH REPORTS ON ACTIVITIES

Lady Douglas Chapter I. O. D. E. at Meeting Yesterday Reviews Commendable Works of Committees

In the absence of the regent, Mrs. R. B. McMicking, the first vice-regent, Mrs. Willis Dean, presided at the monthly meeting of the Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., at headquarters yesterday, and although regret was expressed at her absence, a most unusual occurrence, the members were very pleased to know that Mrs. McMicking was enjoying a well-earned rest at Savona, B.C. The secretary was instructed to send her a box of flowers to greet her on arrival at that point.

A ten-minute talk by Mr. Seymour Greene on the Boy Scout movement aroused much interest in the activities of that organization, and the speaker was accorded a hearty vote of thanks and appreciation for his enlightening remarks.

A bar pin was presented to Mrs. Edwards for her son and Mrs. Seymour Greene was welcomed into the chapter's membership. With deep regret the chapter received the resignation of Mrs. Stewart Williams, as treasurer, and sincere appreciation for her long term of service in that office was expressed by the regent and endorsed by the meeting.

Mrs. Worlock reported on the municipal chapter monthly meeting and the secretary, on the annual meeting of that chapter, while Mrs. McIlree reported from the Local Council of Women's meeting and Mrs. Pyke, convener of the soldiers' graves committee, informed the meeting that the soldiers' graves at Ross Bay cemetery had all been nicely decorated for Easter.

Mrs. F. J. Brown's report of the committee supplying comforts for the families of soldier-settlers was received with keen interest, and all the members promised to support the silver tea being held tomorrow afternoon in the King's Daughters' rest room, Ribbon-Bone Building, to raise funds for continuing this commendable work.

Mrs. A. N. Mouat, the chapter's educational secretary, urged all the members to attend the general meeting to be held on April 22, at which the I. O. D. E. National War Memorial scheme will be thoroughly discussed.

Dog Show Is Proving An All-Round Success

Gilmore Club to Stage Boxing Championships

Large Crowd Attends Opening of Dog Show

Judge Has High Praise for Quality of Exhibits Passed Upon Yesterday—The Judging Recommences at 10:30 Today—Prizes to Be Given at 7:30

All roads led to the Victoria Kennel Club's annual dog show yesterday, and dog fanciers and dog lovers were coming and going all day to and from the spacious premises on Johnson Street where the blue bloods of the canine world are housed for yesterday and today.

There was a large attendance during the day and many expressions of admiration for some of the very high quality dogs which have places on the benches. Mr. H. M. Robertson, who is entrusted with the task of judging all breeds, was working hard all afternoon and evening, starting with the toy classes and a number of high-class dogs of the many varieties came under his expert eye. Great interest was shown in the toy terriers shown yb Miss Routley, of Seattle, these little dogs being comparatively unknown in Victoria, and therefore, unfortunately bringing out no competition from other breeders and fanciers.

There was a very large entry of "Poms," which appear to be becoming more and more popular with the ladies of Victoria and some very fine specimens of the breed were exhibited. Prominent in the upstairs section of the show, where the smaller breeds are benched, is a very fine enlarged photograph of "Muggins," the local hero of this breed who, although now unfortunately no longer living, has immortalized himself by his magnificent work during the war in collecting a very large total of subscriptions to the funds of the Red Cross Society.

Excellent Arrangements

Under the capable supervision of Captain Harbord, the energetic secretary, and his hardworking committee, admirable arrangements have been made for the show and the large floor space enables all visitors to get a close acquaintance with the various specimens of the canine upper ten with ease and comfort. The benching and feeding arrangements being in the capable hands of Spratt's, Ltd., is sufficient guarantee that this most important part of the show is being well looked after. The judging ring upstairs is roomy and so arranged that there is every facility for a large number of spectators to get a good clear view of the judging.

Mr. Robertson's judging gave very great satisfaction, the judge taking a great deal of pains and looking every dog over very carefully. In conversation, after the day's judging was finished, he had a special word of praise for the exhibit of "Poms," and speaking of the English setters, the last breed to be taken yesterday, he said they were the finest lot of setters he had seen anywhere in the last six years and fully equal to those shown at New York this year.

Today's judging will start at 10:30 a.m., the first breed to be taken being the Irish setters.

The prizes will be presented at 7:30 this evening by Mrs. Harbord, wife of the secretary-treasurer. The full list of yesterday's awards follows:

LONDON, April 13. — Tommy Burns, of Calgary, ex-heavyweight boxing champion, writing in The Daily Mail, says he has decided to return to the ring. Burns states that he is still on the lookout for a promising young champion, in search of whom he came to England.

Gas light was first used in 1792.

Moses took the first census on record.

DATE IS FIXED FOR RING CHAMPIONSHIPS

B. C. Amateur Boxing and Wrestling to Be Held in Vancouver by Gilmore Club — Referees Chosen.

VANCOUVER, April 13. — British Columbia amateur boxing and wrestling championships will be held in Vancouver on Wednesday evening, April 28, it was decided at a meeting of the local board of the British Columbia Amateur Athletic Union here tonight.

The bouts will be staged under the auspices of the Gilmore Athletic Club. It is expected that Victoria will send six entries and Nanaimo two. Vancouver will probably contest each class.

President Dave Leith again tendered his resignation, to take effect April 29.

Joe Morris was chosen as referee for the boxing bouts at the forthcoming championships, with inspector Jim Anderson and Bill Findlay as judges. Findlay was also the choice for wrestling referee.

BASEBALL BREVITIES

POUGHKEEPSIE, April 13. — So great is the interest in baseball at Vassar College this Spring that it is likely that the athletic association will make the game a major sport to rank with hockey and basketball. Practice is under way for the student faculty games.

CINCINNATI, April 13.—The Chicago National League baseball team arrived last night to be contenders with the champion Cincinnati Reds in the opening game of the National League season Wednesday. Mitchell and Alexander probably will do the pitching, with Bill Killifer behind the bat. Reuther and Wingo probably will be the battery for the champions.

CINCINNATI, April 13.—Cincinatti Baseball Club stockholders yesterday at a meeting voiced a demand for season passes to Redland Field and for larger dividends. The directors recently tabled the request of the stockholders for a return of the pass system and for increased dividends.

WHITEWATER, Wis., April 13. — The Winnipeg ball club, under command of Charlie Moll and Jack Sheehan, breezed into town today, bringing a small-sized snowstorm with them, but Manager Sheehan put the squad through some exercises in the big gymnasium at the Normal School. The bunch numbered about twenty men and about ten more players are expected tomorrow. There are many new faces in the party, only about five of the old club being back.

INTEREST KEEN IN LADIES' GOLF EVENT

VANCOUVER, April 13.—Twenty entries have been received for the Vancouver Golf and Country Club's women's championship, which will open on Thursday at the Burnaby course.

The qualifying round, it was announced last night, will be held immediately after lunch, at which the candidates will attend. The first round of the championship will also be held Thursday afternoon.

Indications are that the event this year will surpass those of the past. To stimulate interest, the club has donated a handsome trophy, and the fair golfers of Burnaby are individually eager to be the first holders.

Entries for the championship will close on the morning of the qualifying round. It is, as are all club events, open only to club members.

TONIGHT'S BASKETBALL

Three senior basketball games will be played tonight at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The league is drawing to a close and efforts will be made to wind up the schedule as soon as possible.

Tonight's games are as follows: At 7:15 o'clock, Belmonts vs. First Presbyterians; at 8 o'clock, Metropolitans vs. Congo-Centennial; at 8:45 o'clock, St. Mary's vs. On-we-go's.

The Belmont-First Presbyterian game should be the best of the evening, as both teams are still in the running for the championship and neither can afford to lose tonight's game. Belmonts, Crusaders and First Presbyterians will fight it out for the championship this season. Metropolitans are also near the top, closely followed by St. Mary's.

There will likely be a tie in the ladies' league and possibly in the intermediate and senior also. Next week will probably finish up the series.

Ladies' games tonight at First Presbyterian gymnasium will be: At 7:30 o'clock, St. Andrews vs. Presbyterian "B"; at 8:15 o'clock, Mets. vs. Presbyterian "A."

Robins range from Mexico to Alaska.

MAJOR LEAGUE BALL WILL START TODAY

Eight Cities Will See the Diamond Dust Fly Once More—Reservations Reported to Be Very Heavy

Major league baseball teams will open the season in eight National and American cities today, weather permitting, in the initial games of what is expected to be one of the best pennant contests in the history of professional organizations.

Forecasts indicate fair and colder weather with high winds for a majority of baseball parks, but this will hardly check the enthusiasm of baseball fans, judging from reports of advance reservation sales at all the cities involved.

According to the schedules of the two leagues, there will be opening games in two Eastern and two Western cities of each circuit today and the visiting teams will, in turn open the season at the town baseball parks April 22.

In the National League, Pittsburg will play at St. Louis; Chicago at Cincinnati; Philadelphia at Brooklyn, and Boston at New York.

The American League programme calls for New York at Philadelphia; Washington at Boston; St. Louis at Cleveland, and Detroit at Chicago.

Special arrangements have been made to celebrate the beginning of another baseball season at which parades of the players, flag raising, band concerts and the throwing out of the first ball by prominent state or city officials will form a prominent part.

While it will be funy a month before any accurate line can be obtained upon the real strength of the teams, it would appear from the form displayed in Spring practice, that they can be grouped generally at this time as follows:

National—Brooklyn, Chicago and Philadelphia, teams appear to be stronger than last season, while New York, Pittsburg and St. Louis are about equal in playing strength to the form early in1919. Boston and Cincinnati are not judged to be as strong as was the case last Spring, according to close followers of baseball.

American—Philadelphia, Washington, New York and Cleveland are all expected to play a more impressive game this season than was shown respectively last year, St. Louis, Chicago and Detroit are classed as equal to their power of 12 months ago, while Boston falls below the form of 1919.

KNOCKOUT WAS FLUKE SAYS "NOODLES" KNOX

Knox claims it was a lucky punch which ended the last affair, and Woods is quite willing to mix again.

EIGHT SENIOR CLUBS IN ONTARIO LACROSSE

Secures Chess Honors by Defeating Jones in Play-Off of Tie—Local Tournaments in Progress

The minor event in the British Columbia chess tournament having resulted in a tie for highest score between Patrick and Jones necessitated a deciding game between these two players. Mr. Patrick was the winner of this game and therefore has secured the minor championship.

The gold and silver medals for the major and minor winners respectively have been ordered and merely await the finishing of the inscriptions before being presented to the winners.

A local handicap tournament is now in progress for first and second prizes, also a tournament for a prize presented by Mr. George Robinson which calls for special opening moves by the players.

VANCOUVER, April 13. — Rain halted work at Athletic Park on Monday, but the early arrivals of the Vancouver baseball squad hiked a few miles around the lot and indulged in a little indoor work. They are now anxiously awaiting a break in the weather to get in trim for the first game with the Edmonton twilight leaguers, set for Friday afternoon.

Industrial Conscription Prevails Under Russian Soviets

"Till Labor can exist only in a capitalistic State, the toiling masses must understand that it is necessary to abandon the idea of an eight-hour day in this time if disorganization and hard work."

—Trotsky.

The London Outlook suggests that the British advocate of the Soviet has a "wholly wrong impression of the working of the Lenine-Trotsky system. What he is never told is the lot of the ordinary common working man in Soviet Russia."

Russia's Labor Conscripts

"The Russian labor conscript," says the Outlook, "is sweating and starving, working eleven hours every day of the week under discipline as strict as it was at the front,' because his present tyrants carefully broke in pieces the whole of the ancient machinery of society, and sedulously made inoperative all the ordinary motives which make war on poverty. The British working-man would infallibly find himself in the same position if he were foolish enough to pursue the same wrecking policy.

No Eight-Hour Day

"During the last week or two a mass of information has come to hand concerning the industrial side of Bolshevism. First, we have Trotsky's frank declaration that 'Free Labor can exist only in a capitalistic State.' Under the Proletarian State there must be compulsion, not only of the 'idle rich,' but of the industrious poor, who, like other people, do not want to be industrious all the time.

"'The toiling masses,' he says, 'must understand that it is necessary to abandon the idea of an eight-hour day in this time of disorganization and hard work. They must work for ten and twelve hours a day, and realize that they are working for a brighter future.' The importance of that consolatory reflection will be understood when we see the nature of the toiling masses' present.

Industrial Conscription

"The Manchester Guardian had recently a most interesting article on the system of industrial conscription which has been introduced into Russia.

"The general principle of industrial conscription is affirmed in the Russian Constitution, which lays down that 'The Russian Socialist Federated Soviet Republic recognizes that work is an obligation on every citizen of the Republic, and proclaims, "He who does not work shall not eat." But this principle is a very old one; it is only the practical Soviet application of it that matters.

"'About three months ago Trotsky issued a memorandum suggesting the division of the State into territorial productive districts coinciding with the territorial districts of the militia system which replaces the regular army. On December 27 a Commission on the subject of industrial conscription was formed under Trotsky's Presidency, and on January 1 an All-Russian Conference of local departments contributed their views:—

A Labor Census

"They pointed out (1) the need of bringing to work numbers of persons who, instead of doing the skilled labor for which they were qualified, were engaged in petty profiteering, etc.; (2) that the evaporation of skilled labor into unproductive speculation could at least be checked by the introduction of labor books which would give some sort of registration of each citizen's work; (3) that workmen can be brought back from the villages only for enterprises which are supplied with provisions, or are situated in districts where there is plenty; (4) that there should be a census of labor and that the trade unions should be invited to protect the interests of the conscripted. Finally, this Conference approved the idea of using the already existing military organization for carrying out a labor-census of the Red army, and for the turning over to labor of parts of the army during demobilization, but opposed the idea of giving the military organization the work of labor registration and industrial conscription in general.

The Army of Labor

"On January 1 of this year the Central Committee of the Communist Party definitely accepted the principle of industrial conscription, on the ground that 'Russia must somehow or other help herself. Industrial conscription is already being applied. Early in January the "Third Army, renamed the First Revolutionary Army of Labor, began to issue its communiques from the industrial front.' The first communique is given by the Manchester Guardian as follows:—

"'Wood prepared in the districts of Ishim, Karatulskaya, Yalutorovska, Iushaly, Kamuishlovo, Turinsk, Altynai, Oshtchenkovo, Shadrinsk, 10,180 cubic sashins. Working days, 52,651. Taken to the railway stations, 5,334 cubic sashins. Working days on transport, 22,340. One hundred carpenters detailed for the Kizelovsk mines; 100 carpenters detailed for the bridge at Ufa; one engineer specialist detailed to the Government Council of Public Economy for repairing the mills in Chelyabinsk government; one instructor accountant detailed for auditing the accounts of the economic organisations of Kamuishlovo. Repair of locomotives proceeding in the works at Ekaterinburg, January 20, 1920, midnight.'

"This army includes fifty thousand laborers, of whom a considerable number are skilled; and if the scheme works well it will be increased to 300,000 men. On January 23 it was decided to proceed further, and employ the reserve army on works of railway reorganization; and on January 25 it was announced that further similar experiment is being made in the Ukraine.

Labor Booklets

"A word may be added as to the recruiting and discipline of the Labor armies. 'Labor booklets' are issued to all citizens under the age of sixteen, and these are sorted out according to their capacity. People who from any reason are without booklets are held at the disposal of a Special Labor Section which provides employment for them as and where it pleases. The individual has no option. His hours of work (and they reach eleven hours a day seven days a week) are prescribed for him, and he may be taken from his home to any part of Russia where his labor is wanted. 'Discipline must remain as strict as it was at the front. The organisation of the army must be maintained with great strictness. Absence without leave must be punished with the greatest severity.'

"It may be, and probably is, true that in the special circumstances of Russia only such an effort can save the country from absolute ruin," says the London Outlook. "But what a commentary on Leninism that after more than two years of the most absolute power it can only deal with national emergencies by the destruction of what remains of individual liberty. There have been periods in the world's history when public works were habitually accomplished by the labor of slaves. But Bolshevist Russia is the only example of a whole nation working under servile conditions."

VARIETY THEATRE "Was She Unjustly Condemned" which was presented at the Variety Theatre yesterday to an appreciative audience, is more than mere entertainment. From the standpoint of story, photography and direction it is all that could be desired, while the acting of Miss Zena Keefe and the supporting cast is far above the average usually witnessed in screen productions. Aside from the entertainment provided, it gives one something to think about. Based on John W. Noble's famous problem drama, "Shame," the story deals with the human right of equality against the accident of birth, and aims to prove the injustice of convention to the blameless. It presents a powerful plea for fairness and justice to our fellow man no matter what his condition of birth, how clouded his ancestry may be, or what his station in life. Particularly is this plea asked for those unknown innocents who come into the world through no volition of their own, and who stand expectant at life's threshold awaiting our fair regard and charitable consideration. This film will be presented again today and the balance of the week.

ROYAL VICTORIA Constance Talmadge in "Two Weeks," the modern story of Goldie Locks and the three bears, will be the attraction at the Royal Victoria again today. Lillums Blair is a Broadway chorus girl living with two girl friends who consistently manage to be out of work the majority of the time. Alfred Clonbarry, an aristocratic youth of good family, falls in love with Lillums, and although she does not like him, she tolerates him, feeling that his support may enable her to land as a star. After Clonbarry agrees not to speak of love until Lillums becomes a star, she accepts his backing and finally the great day comes. She signs her starring contract and a celebration is held. All the joy in life is killed for Lillums when, true to his promise, Clonbarry again starts ranting about his great love. Clonbarry is elated over the outcome of events and proposes a trip to the home of Brady, Lillums' manager, to celebrate further. On their way to Brady's home, the majority of the men are happily drunk and before they realize what has happened Lillums has slipped away from the car and has found refuge in a quiet and deserted house.

DOMINION THEATRE While no effort has been made to bill the cast in Ethel Clayton's new picture, "The Thirteenth Commandment," as "all-star," it includes some of the most prominent players on the screen. Besides the beautiful and talented Miss Clayton, there is Anna Q. Nilsson, one of the best known leading women in pictures. She has recently appeared opposite Bryant Washburn in "Venus in the East" and in the production of "Soldiers of Fortune." Monte Blue, who played one of the featuring roles in "Everywoman" and is a favorite among the young film actors, gives a fine performance as the heroine's brother. The Dominion Theatre will show it all week. Comedies may come, and comedies may go, but "The Garage" will go on for quite a long time. "The Garage" is the latest Paramount-Arbuckle comedy, which is shown at the Dominion Theatre also. The story is of Fatty, the helper in a garage, which, by the way, is also the town jail and firehouse. Fatty loves Molly, the pretty daughter of the owner, but is forced to go through many trials before he finally wins the girl for his own.

ROMANO THEATRE The charms of chic Bessie Barriscale, the blonde film star, are revealed in rather startling—though delightful—manner in her latest production, "The Woman Michael Married," distributed by Exhibitors Mutual, now showing at the Romano. The well-rounded curves of the fascinating Bessie are accentuated by a scant—Oh! exceedingly brief—one-piece bathing suit which clings to the fair damsel's lithe torso. In the classic phrases of "Buck," the camera wizard who "shot" the fair Bessie in the mermaid scenes: "Any dame that can wear one of these 'Annette Kellermann's' in front of the camera, is certainly th' class, I'm tellin' you, bo, there ain't many broads can horn their way into one o' them skinny one-piece bathing suits and look like a Rocky-feller income the way Bessie Barriscale does. Take it from me, bo, she's there!"

COLUMBIA THEATRE Universal's new photodrama, "Lasca," which is showing at the Columbia Theatre this week, is an adaptation, by Percy Heath, of the famous poem of the same name written years ago by Frank Despres, and which has since been read, memorized and recited by millions of men and boys. It tells a story of early Texas, "down by the Rio Grande," where men rode the wide range and vast herds of cattle roamed the plains; it is a story of a girl in whose veins ran the blood of old Castile and who knew no creed save her own variable moods; it tells of her love for a young American rancher—a love that is elemental in its passion, uncompromising in its jealousy and superb in its self-sacrifice. Norman Dawn, who directed the production, undoubtedly had the advantage of a well-chosen cast. Edith Roberts, who played the title role, is seen as the wild Mexican girl of the plains, and Frank Mayo, in the role of Anthony Moreland, is the young American whom she loves. Praiseworthy work is done by Veola Harty, as the visitor from the North; Lloyd Whitlock, as her fiance; Arthur Jasmine as Lasca's younger brother, and by others in the cast.

PANTAGES THEATRE New songs and new comedy antics are presented by Joe Jenny and his world-famous comedy trio at the Pantages Theatre this week in a manner that far surpasses any of their previous efforts. Jenny may be depended upon to provide the very best. His present turn, in which he is headlining, is a gem of comedy. Amazing feats of rapid calculation are performed by Valand Gamble. His offering is one of the outstanding novelties of vaudeville. Four other widely different acts and a double film feature complete the bill.

"MALE AND FEMALE" RECEIVES GREAT PRESS COMMENT

A New York paper calls "Male and Female" a "DeMille De Luxe," and continues: "For theme, treatment and splendor of production, the picture ranks with the best features of the year. It is not overdone and varies interest so perfectly with the change of its locale as to make it absorbing. For producers who are aiming at suiting the public taste, it would be difficult to discover a more perfect example to set for them. It doesn't much matter where one was reared, 'Male and Female' satisfies a desire for entertainment. The entire production is lavish in the extreme, the Babylonian episode being worthy of special comment for its rare beauty and theatric thrill."

Magnificent Production

The Morning Telegraph asserts that "Male and Female" is a magnificent production which is a tribute to the genius of Director Cecil B. DeMille. Continuing, the reviewer says: "The picture claims first attention here, hence Cecil B. DeMille merits first attention. His work is superb, the picture being DeMille at his best. As a background he has given it many of the most significant and perfectly appointed settings the camera has yet recorded. The shipwreck scenes were filmed with remarkable realism and obviously no trickery, and the picturisation of the Babylonian episode wherein the slave girl enters the lion's den, is exquisite. These scenes afford the really big moments and the 'punch' of the picture. The photography is flawless and the cast above criticism."

It will be presented at the Dominion all next week.

GIRLISH SIMPLICITY OF NOTED COMPOSER

Critic Thus Recently Characterized Manner of Gena Branscombe Whose Works Will Be Heard Thursday

In connection with the recital to be given under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical Club at the Empress Hotel on Thursday evening, and at which the compositions of the Canadian composer, Gena Branscombe (Mrs. J. Ferguson Tenney) will occupy the entire programme, it is interesting to note what kind of reception her music has had elsewhere. The Canadian Courier of February 28, 1920, notes, in connection with Gena Branscombe's own programme given on February 17 at the Masonic Hall, that she was herself at the piano for all the numbers, which included seven groups of songs and two violin numbers, all her own compositions. The Courier adds:

"The composer herself attracted most attention at first, a genial, by no means ethereal woman, ruddy, sparkling with almost a girlish simplicity, noted in the very modest but charming little verbal preludes which she gave to the song groups. She played, not so much with virtuoso finish as with a sort of drawing-room intimacy, though always from the score. One could have wished she had played most of them from memory, but as Gena Branscombe has composed a great many songs she can be excused for preferring the score.

"As a song writer she comes between the two extremes represented by Liza Lehmann and Carrie Jacobs Bond. She has qualities of both these extremes, hence her songs are always as singable as those of the most popular composer and always marked by individuality and scholarship. She understands how to adapt a melody to a text—for the sake of making the music a vehicle for the words—and of making the accompaniment conform to both. There is no suspicion of any particular one style in her composition but rather an attempt to make music the expression of poetry; which in several cases was her own work."

B. C. ELECTRIC BEYOND PROVISIONS OF ACT

Mr. W. J. Bowser Holds Legislation to Change Rule of Road Ultra Vires as Regards Company

That it would be found that before the B.C. Electric Company could be forced to conform with the requirements of the Highway Act calling for a change in the rule of the road, it would insist upon full compensation for the cost of altering its system, and that the Act as now presented to the Legislature was, in that particular, ultra vires, was the contention of Mr. W. J. Bowser, Opposition leader, when the bill was in the committee stage in the Legislature last night.

Mr. Bowser referred to the fact that the B.C. Electric Company is now under the jurisdiction of the Railway Board of Canada, a fact recognized by the Government by its decision to do away with the Public Utilities Commission appointed last year with the primary idea of supervising the company, but the usefulness of which has been eliminated by the fact that the company is now under Federal jurisdiction. The company had already advised the Government that it considers that to make the necessary alterations in its system to permit it to operate under the proposed change will cost a million or more.

Mr. Bowser stated, however, that the question of compensation was not the question at present of greatest moment to the House. He quoted Privy Council decisions in various cases in which the right of provincial legislatures to interfere with railways under Federal jurisdiction was decided, these decisions showing clearly that such Provincial legislation was ultra vires.

Ultra Vires

If it was now proposed to enact legislation that would cast expense upon the B.C. Electric Company, such would be ultra vires, he argued, and the only recourse the Province would have would be to apply to the Federal railway board, and it would be up to the latter to say whether the company should make the change with or without compensation. Therefore, he thought there was nothing to be gained by placing such legislation on the statute books at this time. Rather it would be better to allow the matter to remain for another year and prevent the possibility of endless litigation.

Hon. Mr. Farris was willing to agree the B.C. Electric Company was under Federal jurisdiction. There was, he believed, a fundamental difference between the position of the B.C. Electric Company and the companies mentioned in the cases cited by the Opposition leader. He was willing to concede that the Dominion possessed the right to declare a provincial railway company a Federal work and even to take over streets, but he could not concede that any Federal Government would so far forget itself as to prevent the Province regulating its own street traffic, limiting the speed thereof, or saying on which side it should operate. If all the possibilities conjured up by the Opposition leader should prove true it would prove a condemnation of the Dominion stronger than anything hitherto voiced in the Legislature. If it were conceded that the legislation would not give the Province power to force the B.C. Electric to adopt the right-hand rule, yet, did the Opposition have so little faith in Ottawa as to imagine that the Federal railway board would tolerate the B.C. Electric Company running in opposition to the expressed wish of the Legislature, and that, too, in the face of the fact that all the rest of Canada is running to the right, and on the B.C. Electric Company's Lulu Island branch the railway board has forced it to operate on the right?

Evasion

Mr. Bowser declared the Attorney-General had skilfully evaded the point by seeking to throw out a smoke screen in order to escape the legal issue. He pointed to the fact that the Federal Government had the right, as decided in the famous street ends case in Vancouver, to even at the expense of the municipality, shut off access of the people to the water by permitting construction of a railway along the waterfront. The Attorney-General had admitted that the Railway Board might order the company to travel to the right. But, Mr. Bowser suggested, before the Board would take that step it would justly ask who was going to pay the cost imposed upon the railway in the altering of its system. That would be a reasonable attitude for the Board to take and in that event, the Legislature would have to decide whether the advantage of the change would warrant paying a million for it. The question of the propriety or otherwise of changing the rule of the road was not the question at issue, Mr. Bowser declared; it was whether in view of the position of the company the legislation the House was being asked to pass would achieve the end sought.

Hon. Mr. Farris quoted from the platform as adopted by the late Conservative convention to show the Conservative party favored the change in the rule of the road. This was handed to him by the Premier.

"I notice the Premier must sleep with the Conservative platform," said Mr. Bowser.

"Yes, I keep it in the seat of my chair," retorted the Premier, amid laughter.

"An excellent place to keep it, for it may be you will be able to incubate some valuable legislation from it," said Mr. Bowser, who stated the only answer the Attorney-General appeared to be able to give to his (Mr. Bowser's) points was a political harangue that if Ottawa did the wrong thing, then there would be another assault upon Provincial rights.

Sees Ulterior Effect

Mr. M. B. Jackson said if the legislation were enacted and enforced and the company were made to comply with the change, it was likely the Railway Board would give the company the right to charge an increased fare to make up for its outlays in changes to its system. But for the Opposition Leader to encourage Ottawa to invade the Provincial rights was something to be condemned, he thought.

The Attorney-General endeavored to argue Mr. Bowser was now taking a stand at variance with that adopted by the Conservative convention, but Mr. Bowser retorted that the effort to read politics into a question which confronted the House in the case of the bill before it would not dispose of the matter.

In connection with the other sections of the bill providing that the Department of Public Works may designate highways as primary, secondary and local and in respect of the first class, may proceed to construct them without reference to the municipality and, as for secondary roads, may negotiate with municipal councils as to the respective cost of construction and maintenance thereof through the municipalities, Mr. Bowser pointed out that under the proposed powers the Department could enter into such agreements and carry on work without the ratepayers of the municipalities being allowed to exercise their present right to vote upon a money by-law for the purpose. It was taking away the ratepayers' right under the Municipal Act, to pass upon such expenditure. Further, a council, having agreed to the proportion of cost, could be sued by the Minister should it not pay. In addition, the building of the roads was to be under the control of the Department, the work to be taken out of the hands of the municipalities.

Hon. Dr. King said the municipalities would have to depend upon the Government to play fair. The plan as proposed would prove a saving to the municipalities as the Province would be contributing a substantial proportion of cost. The municipalities appreciated this fact, he said. True the Government was taking a great deal of authority, but he felt sure the municipalities felt they could trust the Government to do the proper thing.

ONE OF SECRETS OF SUCCESS OF "PIRATES"

There are a number of factors that go towards making "The Pirates of Penzance," at the Princess Theatre, the instantaneous success it has proved, and one of the chiefest is the magnificent work done by the chorus. This chorus, consisting of twelve ladies and a similar number of men, all carefully chosen for their vocal ability and numbering amongst them a great number of soloists who have appeared upon many a concert platform with outstanding success, have proved themselves to be perhaps the finest that has ever been assembled in comic opera in Victoria, and under the able and experienced baton of Mr. Herbert Kent their work is past all criticism. Perhaps they rise to their greatest height in the magnificent "Hail! Poetry!" a number that always earns many recalls, but all the numbers in which they participate deserve the highest praise.

Crowded houses have witnessed the first three performances and the advance booking indicates that something very near to a record attendance will mark this final production of the Princess Dramatic Society. The run extends over this week, with a matinee on Saturday afternoon, to which children will be admitted at half price.

Japanese Enfranchisement

Sir:—I have read, with considerable interest, the article under the heading of "Japanese and Enfranchisement" which appeared on page 27 of your issue of Sunday, the 4th instant.

Before examining the arguments advanced therein, I would like to revert to the origin of the present controversy, so as not to lose sight of the real issue, in discussing side issues.

In 1916, while the present leader of the Opposition was Premier, and when volunteers were not coming forward as freely as was hoped for, and when the call for reinforcements was urgent, an Act was passed granting the franchise to all, irrespective of race or color, who wore the King's uniform. Under that Act the Japanese in the Canadian army voted at the front in the Provincial election of 1916.

Whether the reason which actuated the then Premier to pass that Act was high principles or merely the result of reading the writing on the wall, and fearing that the people at home might turn him out, he passed that Act to secure all the votes he could at the front at any cost. No one knows, nor does anyone know to what extent the Japanese voters contributed to the make up of the 180 votes for which he pleaded in order to be elected to the present House. Whatever his reasons, it was he who brought that Act in and passed it, and the present Act, now being discussed by the House, only confirms it.

As the same man who passed the Act is now opposed to the confirmation of it, one cannot help but be led to think that the whole thing is one of vote catching. He did not care a tinker's for the welfare of the state; all he wanted was to get votes, and it appears it is a matter of indifference to him how he got them. He passed that Act because he wanted the votes, and he is opposed to the present Act because he thinks that he can play to the gallery and secure votes by pretending to stand for a "white British Columbia."

It is a matter to be regretted that Premier Oliver has not the courage to stand by the principles involved, but had to figuratively say, "Mr. Electors, it was not I or my party, but only the Great War Veterans." So long as the country is run by pampering to the lowest form of jingoism, so long will the country suffer.

The second point of which I would like to remind the public, and the ladies of the Women's Canadian Club, is that the naturalization laws, and the wording of the certificate of naturalization is based upon the broad principles laid down by the "small nucleus of United Empire Loyalists," men who had the width of vision, and who had faith in the strength and vitality of the Anglo-Saxon civilization not to be afraid of being contaminated when they granted to any alien, of whatever race, when they became British subjects, "all political and other rights and privileges." Certain narrow minded elements in our midst seem to desire to go back on it, and this because they have so little confidence in themselves that they fear the doing of an act of justice to a handful of people will cause the disintegration of the Empire and the decay of the race.

I desire that the above two points should be carefully remembered, because they are the real issue, viz., the standing by our word, which is claimed to be characteristically Anglo-Saxon.

Now we will examine the arguments advanced in the article, which, by the bye, is unsigned, and bears no name of authorship, so I presume is by a member of your staff, who collated the views from different ladies.

Race Purity—By this I take it to mean that the idea is to confine the fusion to the so-called white races of Europe, including Germany, Austria, Turkey, Hungary, Armenia, Georgia, etc., etc. Let us examine them.

Whence come the high cheek bones of the Slavs of Eastern and Southeastern Europe? Was it the result of the overrunning of Eastern and Southeastern Europe by the Tartars of Mongolian race in the thirteenth century? The Tartars are claimed to have overrun Europe as far as East Prussia and Bohemia. In fusing with the Slav, and the Europeans as far as East Prussia and Bohemia you will be introducing Mongolian blood, so these countries must, in future, be eliminated in order to secure race purity.

Then again, how comes the Southern European to have dark complexion? Had it anything to do with the Moors of Africa who overran the South of Europe? In accepting fusion with the Latin races of Southern Europe you will be introducing "colored blood," so these must be eliminated if you would have race purity. When these are eliminated, what have you left? The only thing you have left will be a return to the Teutonic fold, with Scandinavian thrown in. Is that the idea in the minds of the ladies who inspired that article?

No doubt the Teutons would like to have the British return to the fold, and it is not unlikely that the same Teutons would like to set the British Empire at war with the Orientals. Is this what the ladies are working for?

With all due respect to all this talk of "white races," it seems to me that the results obtained from the melting pot will be a direct descendant jointly of Shem, Ham and Japhet, if we are to believe that Noah had three sons, Shem going to Asia, Ham to Africa, and Japhet to Europe. So much for the purity of the white races. But there is another aspect. The Japanese exercised their franchise in 1916. Has that resulted in any demand for inter-marriage? The Oriental races claim that their countries have never been overrun by any alien race, and therefore they are purer in stock, and they are as proud of their racial purity, and as jealous of it, as the white people. I can say a good deal more, but I think I have said enough to show how ridiculous that argument is as an excuse to do an unchristian and unjust act.

Anglo-Saxon Civilization—While it is true that the Anglo-Saxons are made up partly from the Teutonic family, the Anglo-Saxons have, through their adventurers in the seventeenth century, travelled so much, and broadened out to such an extent, that there is very little of the Teutonic to be recognized in them. The Anglo-Saxons have built up such an empire, which the Teutons have been unable to follow, and consequently are extremely jealous of. The ideals of Anglo-Saxon civilization, as exemplified in the British branch, consist of fair dealing, justice, toleration and broad-minded respect for the rights of others, the non-interference with the habits and religion of other races, and the jealous guarding of the sanctity of her bond or word. When the Teuton colonizes, on the other hand, he wants to jam his ideas and habits of life down the throat of those he conquered. In other words, the Teuton is narrow minded, and that is why he has signally failed.

Is it in keeping with British ideals to go back on our word, and on our promise made in writing? I am pleading for the Anglo side of the race; the author of your article appears to plead for the Teuton (Saxon) side, since the Teutons regard a written agreement as a "scrap of paper." The public must judge as to who is standing for the real and the higher ideals of Anglo-Saxon civilization.

Ethics of Christianity—The fundamental principles of the teachings of Christ consist of the brotherhood of man in the eyes of God, humility, and love your neighbor, besides other principles which I need not mention, but would refer to the Sermon on the Mount. Can the women who inspired that article reconcile their stand with the Sermon on the Mount? I fear that their conception of the ethics of Christianity is that which has caused two dozen so-called Christian nations to set at each others throats, resulting in the murdering and maiming of over 20,000,000 people, the devastation of many square miles of territory, the ravishing of the innocent, and the suffering which is not yet ended. It is not Christianity, but a travesty and mockery of Christianity, for Christ taught us to love our neighbors, to regard all men as brothers, to be humble and meek. Through the ages God has tried to lead men right through the prophets, but men made the excuse that they were only human, and that human beings are frail and therefore unable to attain the perfection which He desired. Christ was sent. He was born of woman so that He might be subjected to all the passions and frailties of the flesh, and He set us an example how to live. He was not sent specially for the so-called white races, but for all humanity; in fact, the white races themselves were gentiles.

It seems to me that under the guise of Christianity they are trying to instil a species of jingoism and national egoism which was the cause of the fall of Rome. May I suggest a study of the rise and fall of Rome as being very useful to the ladies who inspired that article. As to Christianity, I regret to say so, but I fear what they understand is a perversion of Christianity, somewhat similar to those of the German professors at the early part of the war.

It is strange that if the inspirer of that article is a lady that vote-catching tactics could not have been avoided. I refer to the part referring to the Fraser River, the stores and the Okanagan Valley lands. Let us briefly examine it. The spirit which prompted this part is the spirit of covetousness, and covetousness is against God's laws—see the tenth Commandment.

The Province of British Columbia is very rich in natural resources, and was, and is still, sparsely populated. The white settler who comes here naturally seeks the easiest and most paying jobs, and leaves that which requires harder work and poorer returns. The Orientals, bred to centuries of frugality and industry, just picked up those industries which the white men discarded, and by their industry they made good. Owing to the shortsightedness and the want of vision of your politicians, who do not think in terms of the welfare of the country but only in terms of vote-catching, the rich resources are neglected, and when pressed by the public for work they point the eye of covetousness to these fisheries which today have attained greater importance. As regards the stores, if the ladies wanted to help that noble lady who had a son at the front, they could have bought from her, even if they had to pay an extra five cents. But no; they grudge her the five cents, and then point to the Oriental as the cause of her troubles.

As to the Okanagan lands: Who were the original pre-emptors of that land which today is in the hands of the Orientals? Was it not a white man? Why did he sell? Was it because the work is too hard, the hours too long and the returns too insufficient? Or maybe the original owner wanted the money to take up other industries which he expects will give him better returns, and finding no white man willing to give him his price, he finally sold to the Oriental. The blame lies with the white men and not with the Orientals, for the latter are entitled to the gratitude of the country for keeping the land productive and preventing weeds from growing thereon to the detriment of neighboring lands. I dare say some will answer that they prefer the land to grow weeds. If so, and they desire to prevent the Oriental from securing it, why do they not take it up? The remedy is in their own hands, but the trouble appears to be that it is a case of passing the buck, which is somewhat characteristic of this Province. They want the white owner to suffer, to let his land lie idle, ahem, for the sake of a "white Canada."

I am afraid I have already taken up too much of your space, and will leave the other points raised to some other time. For the present I will close by reiterating that I am fighting for Humanity, for the prevention of the children of the very women who today are perpetrating this injustice from having to go through the horrors of a race war, for the true principles of Christianity, for the true ideals of Anglo-Saxon civilization, with the emphasis on the Anglo side of it, and I am prepared to leave the issue to the judgment of the public and the broad-minded ladies who have read both the apologia under the heading of "Japanese and Enfranchisement" and this and my previous letters. I think the rights of the Japanese and the Chinese who are British subjects by right of birth or naturalization to the franchise are irrefutable on whatever grounds, if we are true to the British principles of fair dealing and sanctity of "a scrap of paper."

CITY SEEKS NEW FORMS OF INCOME

for road improvement. But I believe that the Government should make the motor tax higher."

Ald. Todd moved that his suggestions be submitted to the Finance Minister, the Minister of Public Works and Victoria's members.

Ald. Sangster questioned whether the Provincial Government had power to charge a tax on gasoline.

"It would be applied the same as the amusement tax," Ald. Todd stated.

Too High Already

Ald. Andros did not agree with the plan. "People who own automobiles are paying enough already," he said. "They are paying as much as they can afford. Automobiles are no longer a luxury. They are used for business more than for pleasure; they are accepted as part of a man's stock-in-trade. If we want a tax of this kind we should get power to enforce it ourselves and take all the revenue."

Ald. Johns argued that most people who owned cars could afford to pay higher taxes.

"If we are to tackle taxation problems in earnest, we have got to get down to a broader scheme than this—something that will affect the whole community," said Ald. Cameron. "We might as well tax people for light and water as well as for gasoline."

"Suggest something better," challenged Ald. Johns.

Suggests Sale Tax.

"I maintain that the land tax is best and the fairest, and that next to it comes the income tax," said Ald. Cameron. "If we keep within the limits of those two forms of taxation, we will get all we need and all that is fair. I believe that we can get an income tax on a different basis than has so far been proposed. I would propose a tax of one per cent on retail sales. The person would then be obliged to pay on the basis of consumption. It would be an equitable tax and easy to collect. The man should be required to pay taxes on the basis of the way he lives. If a man wants to spend $300 a month, he should pay taxes accordingly."

Ald. Johns held that the scheme was unjust, as it would penalize the man with a large family by adding to his expenses.

Not Justified.

"I was merely talking of a principle," said Ald. Cameron. "As a matter of fact, I don't think that enforcement of a tax on sales would be justified by present conditions. The city's finances are not so bad as they are painted. We are paying our way, outside the payments on our sinking funds. Making that single exception, our receipts are paying for our expenditure. Under those conditions our rate is lower than in Vancouver or any other large Mainland community. Have we got to resort to these extraordinary schemes to increase our revenues? I say no. But if we do, let us do it in a broad way so that everyone will pay a share. We need $250,000 to meet our obligations this year. If you can find a more practical scheme to add to the city's revenue, I want to hear about it."

Drive Business Away.

Ald. Todd said he largely agreed with Ald. Cameron. The city's finances were much better than most people believed. He was amazed to know that the city's general taxes were about half of those levied on corresponding property in other Northwest cities of Victoria's size. He claimed, however, that a tax on sales would drive business from the city, while the motor and gas tax could be made to bring in immediate results.

Ald. Todd declared in favor of an increased tax on motor trucks. He opposed the Cameron plan, unless applied solely to sales of luxuries. He contended that city assessments were inequitable.

Ald. Sargent, on the other hand, said that the assessment commissioner's report should be upheld and accepted as fair. He recalled that the city now was forced to carry $4,000,000 in unpaid taxes, and he warned against the possibility of having more property on which the taxes were delinquent turned back to the city.

Would Upset Realty

If conditions continued, he predicted that the city would soon be saddled with unsold property assessed at $1,000,000. Ald. Sargent objected to the proposal to dispose of this unsold property at 25 cents on the dollar. Such a plan, he held, would undo land values in the city and completely upset the condition of Victoria real estate for a long time. He said that an attempt to sell this property had been made last Summer at the tax sale, but only a small portion had been sold, and such failures were a poor advertisement.

"There is one thing necessary in respect to tax relief, and that is that levies shall cease to be assessable," said Ald. Sargent. "The working man is loyal to his city and is prepared to pay his portion of taxes. A tax on incomes is the only sound way of meeting the situation."

He objected to the Cameron plan, saying that the cost of store commodities were already too high.

Criticise Valuation

Ald. Todd said that present assessments had created the condition where in some districts 95 per cent of the residents didn't pay their taxes.

That too many people were talking "blue ruin" and that the city's financial problems would soon naturally straighten themselves out, was the contention of Ald. Fullerton, who urged that the municipalities of the Province should solidify behind the demand for amusement and motor taxes. If enough pressure was brought to bear on this issue, he argued, the Provincial Government would be forced next year to relinquish its present claim on these sources of income.

Sale of the property now on the city's hand to the highest bidder, was suggested by Ald. Sangster. He proposed leases as well until the property attained sufficient value for profitable sale. He favored a compromise of the Finance Committee scheme for a tax on incomes, although he urged a minimum of nearer $100 than $75 a month.

Prosperity Coming

A wave of prosperity is coming and it will soon engulf Victoria, Ald. Johns predicted, and he maintained that radical taxation measures were neither necessary nor beneficial to the community. He characterized the Cameron proposal as "a desperate measure."

"I don't agree with those who say that our needs are not pressing," declared the Mayor. "We have followed a policy of drift too long. We have been inclined to leave our disagreeable problems to the other fellow. I am not hopeful of getting results from the Government now, because we have been turned down twice, but there is no use in starting to talk about sour grapes. What we have asked for we need, and we should not be satisfied until we get them. I am opposed to borrowing money to tide over until the property now on our hands is redeemed." He objected to the Cameron sales tax plan because it would encourage mail-order purchases.

Ald. Andros held that the City should try to sell all the unredeemed property and that none of it should be withheld from sale.

"We want a clean-up of as much of this property as possible," said Ald. Todd. "The fact that we sell cheaply won't keep away investors, but will attract them. We ought to advertise the sales extensively all through the Northwest."

Motions proposed by Ald. Todd to ask for 50 per cent of an increased motor tax and a gasoline levy, and to repeat the request for additional income already outlined were then put and carried. Ald. Andros asked that he be recorded against the gasoline tax.

"That is a shocking play for a certain kind of vote," remarked Ald. Todd with a laugh.

"I'll get them too," was the assurance of Ald. Andros.

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR SPRING USE

Harsh Purgatives Should Be Avoided—A Tonic Will Restore Your Energy

Not exactly sick but not feeling quite well. That is the way thousands of people feel in the Spring. It is a sign that the trying indoor life of Winter has left its mark upon you. Easily tired, appetite fickle, sometimes headaches and a feeling of depression. Pimples or eruptions may appear on the skin, or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order, and these symptoms may easily develop into more serious trouble.

Do not dose yourself with purgatives as so many people do, in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken instead of giving strength. Any doctor will tell you that this is true. What you need in the Spring is a tonic that will build up the blood and nerve. Dr. Williams Pink Pills can do this speedily and surely. This medicine enriches the blood, clears the skin, improves the appetite and makes tired, depressed men, women and children bright, active and strong. As an example of the value of these pills we give the statement of Mrs. S. McBurnie, Tatamagouche, N.S., who says: "I have good reason to speak in the highest terms of Dr. Williams Pink Pills. I was badly run down, failing in weight, and suffering from dizzy spells and weakness. In fact my condition was such that I was hardly able to do my housework. A friend advised me to try Dr. Williams Pink Pills and after using several boxes there was a noticeable improvement. I continued using the pills for some time longer and found that I had fully regained my old time health and strength and was able to do my housework without feeling weak and worn out as I did before I began using the pills."

Dr. Williams Pink Pills can be obtained from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent

They Have Found the Way to Beautiful Teeth

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

Dental science has found a way to combat film on teeth. It has been tested for years by able authorities in clinical and laboratory tests. Now leading dentists everywhere advise its daily use.

The method is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. This week we offer a 10-Day Tube to every home in this city, and we urge every home to get it. Let it prove itself.

Tartar and Stain are based on film. This 10-Day Test will show you that they are avoidable. And so is tooth decay.

Film is What Discolors

You can feel on your teeth a slimy film. It is ever-present, ever-forming. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

The tooth brush doesn't end it. The ordinary dentifrice cannot dissolve it. So it accumulates and may do a ceaseless damage.

Most tooth troubles are now traced to that film. And now it is known why brushed teeth still discolor and decay. The reason lies in that clinging film which the old cleaning methods omit.

Cause of Decay

That film is what discolors—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus the film is the teeth's chief enemy.

It Can Be Ended

Dental science has for years sought a way to end that film, and the way has now been found.

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to constantly combat it.

The way seems simple, but it is not. Pepsin must be activated. The usual method is an acid harmful to the teeth, so pepsin long seemed impossible.

What has been found is a harmless activating method. Now pepsin can be applied twice daily and left between the teeth. And millions of teeth are now being cleaned as they never were before.

Watch the Effects

We ask you to watch the effects. Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how teeth whiten as the fixed film disappears.

Compare this method with the old. Read the facts about it. Then decide for yourself what is best.

Look in Ten Days

See how white the teeth are—how they glisten. You can see that the film is gone. You will know that teeth can be kept forever whiter and cleaner and safer.

Relieve Your Rheumatism For 25c.

NR does it by improving digestion, assimilation and elimination—the logical way.

NR Today—Relief or No Pay

There are three vital processes of human existence—the digestion of food, the extraction of nourishment from it and the elimination of the waste.

Let anything interfere with these processes—let them be interrupted or improperly carried on, and sickness of some kind follows.

Poor digestion and assimilation means failure to derive full nourishment from food and that in turn often means impoverished blood, weakness, anemia, etc. Poor elimination means an accumulation of waste matter which poisons the body, lowers vitality, decreases the power of resistance to disease and leads to the development of many serious ills.

Rheumatism—due to some interference with the process of elimination, failure to get rid of certain body poisons—cannot be expected to yield to any medicine that fails to correct the condition responsible for it. Could any reasonable person expect to rid himself of rheumatic pain as long as rheumatic poison is allowed to remain in the body.

Think of this, it explains the success of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) in so many cases where other medicines have failed. Thousands are using NR Tablets every day and getting relief. Why pay five or ten times as much for uncertain things? A 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), containing enough to last twenty-five days,—must help you, must give you prompt relief and satisfactory benefit or cost you nothing.

And Nature's Remedy is not only for the relief of rheumatism. It improves digestion, tones the liver, regulates kidney and bowel action, improves the blood and cleanses the whole system. You'll feel like a new person when you've taken NR Tablets a week. You've tried the expensive medicines and doctors, now make the real test. You'll get results this time. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

FARMING IN B.C. MADE BIG STRIDES

Progress of Province's Great Basic Industry Shown in Board of Trade Annual Report—Imports Reduced

As far as the agricultural industry in British Columbia is concerned, 1919 was the most successful year on record, according to the annual report of the Board of Trade, which states that no industry in the Province made greater strides during the last twelve months than farming. The report states:

"The total agricultural production for the year 1919 was approximately $63,478,543, as against $49,444,308 in 1918, or an increase of 28.38 per cent. Whilst a great deal of this increase in the value of production may be attributed to the prevailing high prices, yet it is a source of gratification to note that in practically all branches of agriculture there has been a decided increase in quantities, as well as in values.

"The area sown to roots and field crops shows a decided increase, due largely to so many of our boys returning from the firing line to pursue the more peaceful occupation of farming, thereby relieving the acute labor shortage that existed during the war, and allowing the uncultivated land to be put under the plow. Owing to a late Spring, the planting was considerably delayed. From this time up to the month of July weather conditions were ideal and a very heavy crop was predicted. Unfortunately, however, owing to the scarcity of rain during the Summer months, the crops suffered considerably, the yield of hay and potatoes being particularly affected.

Smaller Imports

"The total imports of agricultural food products for the year was $22,734,150, as against $21,905,446 for the year 1918, an increase of $828,704, or 3.78 per cent. This increase was due to the increased value of produce, and it is gratifying to note that the actual quantity imported shows considerable reduction over the previous year.

"Whilst complete returns have not yet been received showing the value of exports, yet the total value is estimated to have been $7,000,000, consisting chiefly of fruit and vegetables.

"The fruit production was the largest on record, and the amount exported was greatly in excess of other years. Not only was the quality good, but good returns were received owing to the prevailing high prices. The vegetable yield was about the same as the yield for 1918 with the exception of potatoes, which showed a decrease of 10,000 tons, due, as already mentioned, to the drought during the Summer months and early frosts.

"The area sown to grains in 1919 was 26,021 acres greater than in 1918, whilst the total yield was 3,853,999 bushels, as against 2,778,904 bushels in 1918, thereby increasing the value of grains for the year to the extent of $1,992,227.

"The acreage in fodders was increased by 48,654, showing an increased value over the previous year of $3,548,559.

Livestock Increases

"The total number of live stock in the Province shows a slight increase over 1918, whilst the total quantity of meats marketed exceeded 1918 by 1,625,000 lbs.

"The poultry industry had a flourishing year. The numbers were increased by 180,000. The egg production showed an increase of 884,384 dozen over 1918.

"Dairying also made rapid strides during the year, the production being $1,286,782 greater than the former year. The hop industry is also growing in importance, no less than 280,000 lbs., valued at $168,000, being produced during the year. Whilst the cultivation of tobacco in this Province was not carried on extensively in former years, yet it has been found that the Okanagan Valley and the Lower Mainland are very much adapted for tobacco growing, and the prospects are very bright for the future. In 1919 the production was nearly 100,000 lbs.

"From the foregoing figures it can be readily seen the strides that agriculture is making in this Province, and with the opening of large tracts of land in the north and other large areas in other portions of the Province, we may face the future with a spirit of optimism.

"Let us march forward, and instead of importing agricultural food products to the extent of $22,000,000, let us reverse the balance and export that amount."

A. McKim, Limited Opens Office in Hamilton

Former Hamilton Man in Charge

A. McKim, Limited, the advertising agency, has opened an office in Hamilton to assure the closest co-operation with clients. The company's other offices are at Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and London, England.

Suitable premises have been secured in the Home Bank Bldg., on James Street North, and the office will be in charge of Mr. R. S. Stewart, who, for the past eight years, has been connected with the company's Toronto office.

Mr. Stewart, who was born 1880 educated at Hamilton, is the eldest son of the late A. D. Stewart, at one time the Chief of Police and later the Mayor of Hamilton.

MRS. AURORE BARRETTE, popular New Hampshire woman, who says Tanlac brought about a wonderful change in her condition and that every suffering woman ought to know about this wonderful medicine.

"Tanlac is a grand medicine, and I think every suffering woman ought to know about it," was the statement made recently by Mrs. Aurore Barrette, at her residence, 133 Second Street, Manchester, New Hampshire. Mrs. Barrette is a well known and highly respected resident of that city.

"I have not felt at all well for the past year or more," she continued, "I haven't been sick enough to be in bed, but I was far from being a well woman. At times I thought I had kidney trouble, for I suffered almost constantly from severe pains across my back, just over the kidneys. Whenever I tried to do any housework at all that dull pain would be there, and if I attempted to stoop over it just felt as though my back would break. I would get so weak and worn out I would have to sit down and rest several times a day, and I felt tired all the time.

"This condition made me awfully nervous, so that I rarely ever slept well at night, and every now and then I would jump in my sleep, as if in a fright, and my condition was really becoming serious.

"Only two bottles of Tanlac have brought about a wonderful change in my condition. In fact, the results I have received from this medicine have really surprised me. Those terrible pains in my back which used to trouble me every day have almost disappeared, and I am going to keep on taking Tanlac until they leave me entirely. I have lots of energy now, and am not only able to do my housework, but I get through the day without feeling the least bit tired. I am no longer nervous like I was, and I sleep well at night.

"I shall always be thankful for what Tanlac has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, Druggist, and in Esquimalt at Lang's Drug Store. (Advt.)

SCORES MR. SHANKS AS BEING "OFFICIOUS"

Mr. J. B. Greenlaw Declares Labor Man's Taxation Plan Would Be Hardship on Poor Men

A vigorous protest against the "officiousness" of Mr. J. A. Shanks in his tax proposals to the City Council was registered in a letter received by the Mayor and Aldermen last night from Mr. J. B. Greenlaw, 1028 Mason Street.

"I hereby hope that you will not take J. A. Shanks' advice to impose a special tax on the poor working man, who may be getting $75 or $80 a month," wrote Mr. Greenlaw. "He is too officious to 'urge' the City Council to do anything of the kind. As I know that it is hard enough for a worker with a wife and family depending on such a paltry income, paying rent, water, light and the outrageous prices for clothes and shoes and food for the household, I certainly protest against J. A. Shanks' proposal, and I have as much right to your consideration as his proposal has. So I trust that you, gentlemen, will see the injustice of his proposition when it would work an extra hardship on the small-salaried man."

Along with the corespondence from Mr. Shanks, the Greenlaw letter was ordered by the Council received and filed.

All This Extra For You

Many a bright, shiny-looking bicycle is a gay deceiver. It is merely built to sell.

In a few short months it becomes a chipped, rusty-looking object that runs as hard as it looks.

Don't be "persuaded" to buy a bicycle merely on its looks.

Extra Satisfaction

Buy one of the well-known C.C.M. bicycles—made in Canada for more than twenty years.

The C.C.M. trade mark on the frame is an assurance to you of extra quality and satisfaction.

The beauty of the C.C.M. is more than surface deep. There are three coats of rich, brilliant, waterproof enamel over a coat of anti-rust. That means a tough, elastic enamel that will stand wear and weather.

Two Hour Nickel Bath

The smooth, highly-polished nickelling is over rust-proof copper. The parts to be nickelled are left in the nickel baths in a double-strength solution for two hours. Cheap nickelling is given only twenty minutes or so. You see now why C.C.M. nickelling keeps its bright appearance and wears so long.

You don't always spin along smooth pavements. Sometimes you have to bump over ruts and cobble stones. So the C.C.M. is built with a large margin of safety.

The C.C.M. frame has the long, strong, "Fish-mouth" reinforcement at the joints. This makes a rigid, powerful frame. It is a safeguard against "buckling".

Extra Strength

The wheels will stand the jars and jolts, too. The selected hard maple rims have no knots or weak spots. The spokes are of special toughened piano wire.

The C.C.M. is a safer-than-ordinary bicycle.

It is also easier-riding.

The special construction of the driving parts gives the direct line drive that makes the C.C.M. run with the least effort. It steers more easily, too. It's a joy to ride a C.C.M.

New Hercules Brake

And the new Hercules Positive Drive Brake—the Coaster Brake without a side arm — is included as regular equipment without extra charge.

There are C.C.M. dealers in almost every locality in Canada. Look for the C.C.M. sign. Then drop in and see the new models.

This trade mark is on the frame of every C.C.M. Bicycle.

FOOT MILLINERY

"A woman is known by her shoes" may nowadays be considered a platitude. Women have greatly changed during the last few years, and now they rightly attach just as much importance to their boots and shoes, their "foot millinery" as a bootmaker termed it for that reason, as to their hats or toques.

When there is no pronounced and particular fashion in footwear to be followed a woman is especially able to express her individuality through her choice of shoes. That will be the case (says a London paper) this coming season. Various styles and shapes will be considered fashionable; short vamps or long vamps. Cuban heels or Louis heel, and various color combinations of leather and suede.

High-legged boots are likely to be in great demand. Some of the new ones possess a most elaborate open-work design right down the front, but because they are decidedly striking they are not likely to be generally worn.

In America the boot that is being worn by the smartest women has a long, very narrow pointed vamp and a Louis heel. This style does not agree at all with the laws of hygiene, but, when it is expressed in grey kid, or in black patent (for the golosh) and brown leather (for the upper), or again in Havana brown and "dove" grey leather—the uppers matching the skirts with which the boots are worn—it is extremely smart and dressy.

Black will naturally be a favorite color, and the leather will be more serviceable than suede, but in the uppers of both boots and shoes, light colors, sometimes a suede or kid, will be introduced. A stylish shoe, for instance, is one of brown leather with grey suede for the upper, and decorated with brown broguings, and a boot that will appeal to some women has a black patent golosh and a grey crocodile calf leg. Real crocodile, which the ordinary woman cannot distinguish from the printed substitute except through wear, is likely to be more obtainable shortly than it has been, but the price will still be prohibitive to a good many.

Large tabs and fancy bars are features of the new shoes. A green crocodile shoe with a large tab of the same leather and a long black suede vamp would make many a woman sigh with envy. Dark green seems to be a favorite color. One shoe of this shade of leather has four bars above the toe, each bar having in its centre a small round paste buckle. The sides of the shoe have small canvas side-springs, reminding one, though in a most delicate manner, of the practical and essentially comfortable boots our grandmothers used to wear.

ESTIMATES COMPLETED IN THE EARLY HOURS

Legislature Sits Long to Put Through Outlays Aggregating Over $17,000,000, a Record Year's Outlay

By the expedient of sitting until after 2 a.m. yesterday morning the Legislature completed its consideration of the estimates of expenditures for the coming year and ratified the government's programme of outlays aggregating in all to $17,410,000. Right up to the end the Opposition members voiced their protest of the outlays which call for the greatest expenditure on current account in the history of the Province, outlays two millions and more in excess of those for any previous year, $13,960,711 of which is to meet the operating costs of the administration and $3,449,961 on capital account. Towards this outlay it is estimated that current revenue will contribute $13,973,245, also a record amount, to be derived from the various sources, the chief part of which comes in the way of taxation and imposts.

At last evening's session the items of outlays for the Department of Finance and the Department of Public Works were the chief expenditures dealt with.

In connection with the Finance Department expenditures objection was voiced by Mr. J. W. Jones, South Okanagan, to the fact that some $37,600 all told was being voted for the three Government agencies at Barkerville, Quesnel and 150-Mile House in the Cariboo riding. There, he claimed, the last voters' list showed a total of some 1,648 electors, indicating that the population is limited. For the two ridings of North and South Okanagan, with 8,000 electors, there was but one Government agency at Vernon, with an outlay of some $15,000. Grand Forks and Greenwood agencies, only a few miles apart and with an aggregate of less than 3,000 electors, required an outlay of $11,000.

Reduction Needed

It was evident, Mr. Jones argued, that there should be some rearrangement whereby the important sections would receive better service the while the taxpayers of the Province, in the face of the increasing burdens of taxation, could be relieved by the elimination of needless outlays in sections where the business to be done did not warrant the outlays now being provided.

Some objection was taken to the votes for maintenance of Government House and grounds, some facetious members suggesting that if they were supposed to vote the money there should be an extended range of hospitality offered there to members during the session.

There was an evident desire on the part of some members to poke fun at the ministers at the head of the departments for which the expenditures were being asked. It was along in the early morning hours that the attack centered upon the Minister of Lands and strangely enough, he did not appear to be aware of the fact that some of his fellow members were seeking to take "a rise" out of him. It was when the item of $100,000 for Government Buildings at Prince Rupert was under consideration that the fun commenced. There was a chorus demanding to know why that much money was to be spent in Prince Rupert.

Hon. Mr. Pattullo called attention to the fact that the late government, at the time the Prince Rupert lots were placed upon the market, had promised that Government buildings aggregating in cost a million dollars would be erected at that point. To build on the plan prepared, would today cost at least $1,750,000. It was not proposed to go to any such expense. The amount now being asked would provide for one unit of the buildings, this to be added to as occasion warranted. The old plans drafted for the late Government would not be followed and new plans were now being prepared.

Mr. J. W. E. Thompson, Grand Forks, wanted to know what the new plans would call for in the aggregate. The vote of $100,000, he suggested, might be regarded merely in the light of a starter, the entry of the thin edge of the wedge so to speak.

Some City

Hon. Mr. Pattullo urged the growing importance of Prince Rupert, declaring the late Government had given a promise and as it had insisted upon purchasers of lots there living up to their undertakings it was but right that the Government should live up to its own. He declared that centre to be the only city municipality which had kept its municipal sinking fund intact. All the others, he claimed, were in arrears.

Major Burde doubted this statement. In fact he deemed it was a regrettable one and showed the Minister to be quite ignorant of matters municipal.

"I know what I am talking about," asserted the Minister evincing some heat.

"No you don't. You should study municipal affairs which, I must say, you appear quite ignorant of," retorted Major Burde.

Chairman Manson rapped for order, asserting the question of sinking funds had nothing to do with the matter in hand, but the Minister was not satisfied and he got busy looking up the report of the Municipal Inspector to prove his contention was correct the while broad smiles adorned the faces of his tormentors.

Mr. J. E. Cowper asserted that seven city and nine district municipalities had kept their sinking funds intact, and Hon. Mr. Pattullo declared all he was asking for his home constituency was that the promise of the late Government should be kept.

"But surely you don't expect this Government to keep all the promises of our Conservative friends," asked Mr. Thompson, who said the members should have some idea of what the ultimate cost of the Government buildings proposed would be.

Hon. Mr. Pattullo said he was not asking that buildings on the scale promised by the old Government should be erected, or "anything so foolish as that."

Hon. Dr. King, Minister of Public Works, intervened to state that the new plans proposed would ultimately give a building costing from $300,000 to $350,000, and the $100,000 was to provide for the first unit to be added to as occasion required.

"Am I to understand that you are going to spend $400,000 to erect a building in a village of less than 4,000 people?" interjected Mr. James Schofield, Conservative member for Trail, who had been dozing in his chair and suddenly came to.

Boosts North Country

Hon. Mr. Pattullo got red in the face as he shook his finger at the members and declared with heat that he wanted all and sundry to understand that the north country has greater resources than the southern part of the Province, that its industries are growing and that unlike most new sections, it was actually producing more in revenue to the Provincial treasury than is the south, and he referred to the latter portion with somewhat of a derogatory air.

Mr. Thompson voiced his objection to this "small town stuff," asserting the Minister should not speak to stir up sectional animosities. He was for proper expenditures anywhere in the Province providing results commensurate with outlays could be secured, but he protested that the House should not be called upon to vote moneys for a scheme unless it was supplied with full details of the expected aggregate cost.

Mr. Hugh Stewart took a hand in the game when he produced a report of the Lands department and, pointing to a diagram, asserted more logs were scaled in Vancouver district than in the whole north.

"How many canneries have you got in Prince Rupert?" he asked and when the Minister of Lands showed hesitation in answering, he shouted "We have twenty-five in Comox, more than you have got in your whole north," a sally that was greeted with loud applause from other members.

By this time everyone in the House, with the exception of the Minister of Lands, was enjoying the joke. Finally the vote was passed.

Mr. G. S. Hanes, when the item of $195,400 for ferries, etc., was reached, put up a strong plea for government assistance for the North Vancouver and West Vancouver ferries, pointing to the fact that it was the practice of the Government to give aid to privately owned ferries and he could see no reason why municipal enterprises should not be treated equally fairly.

Hon. Dr. King stated he did not consider that the people of the Province should be saddled with such a charge. It was a matter, he thought, of arrangement between the municipalities of North Vancouver and the City of Vancouver.

Mr. Hanes asserted the service must be enlarged if it is to properly cater to the increased traffic, much of it tourist traffic and, to that extent, the service was of Provincial benefit. He received support from Mr. McGeer, but his efforts proved unavailing and the vote was passed as it stood.

Road Outlays

Hon. Dr. King, Minister of Public Works, this year forestalled the Opposition criticism which, in the past three years, has been voiced at the fact that the vote for roads, streets, bridges and wharves has always been placed in the estimates as a lump sum vote instead of, as in the past, being segregated according to the ridings. The lump sum amount of $2,197,600 is placed in this year's estimates, but a few days ago he distributed among members details of the outlays proposed for roads, streets and trails. It gives the following figures for the various electoral ridings, as compared with those of the preceding year:

The Hacking Cough Strains the Lungs

The terrible, hacking, lung-wrecking cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to get rid of it is a great source of danger to your health, and the longer it is allowed to stick the more serious the menace becomes.

You can easily get rid of the cough or cold at its inception by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, a remedy that has been universally used throughout Canada for the past 30 years.

Mrs. Samuel Mathews, Portage, P.E.I., writes: "Last Winter I caught a heavy cold, and was laid up for sometime. I had such a hacking cough I could not sleep at night, and did not think I could ever get over it. One day a friend dropped in to see me, and was surprised to see how bad my cough was. She advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so the next day I sent for a bottle and soon got relief, and by the time I had taken two bottles, my cough was all gone. I doubt there is anything to equal it."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto. Ont.

KIWANIS GIVE TEN THOUSAND TO FUND

Club Starts With Initial Contribution Toward New Jubilee Hospital—"Hello, Victoria!" Proceeds $6,000

The Kiwanis Club has subscribed $10,000 as an initial contribution to the fund for building a new Jubilee Hospital.

Sponsors of the movement for the construction of this badly needed institution, the live new club has expressed itself in practical terms of dollars.

At the weekly luncheon yesterday Mr. Robert S. Day, chairman of the Jubilee Hospital Board, announced that those who staged "Hello, Victoria!" here last week at the Royal Victoria were forwarding to the hospital directors a cheque for $6,000 from the proceeds of the revue toward the maternity ward in the new hospital building.

The Kiwanis Club is bringing the Players' Club of the University of B. C. to Victoria on April 30 to present at the Royal Victoria the now well-known play "Green Stockings," proceeds to go to the new hospital.

"They told me in Vancouver that this is one of the finest shows put on there," stated Kiwanian Forman during the luncheon.

IMPRESSES PENSION NEEDS ON KIWANIANS

Returned Soldier Addresses Club on Need of Higher Pay for Disabled Men—Committee Will Wire Ottawa

A returned man, Mr. C. Whittingham, himself eighty per cent totally disabled, laid before the Kiwanis Club at the weekly luncheon yesterday the need of pension adjustment.

Two points were dwelt upon by the speaker, whose address was short and emphatic. The Canadian total disability pension amounted to $60 a month, while the ordinary laboring man's wage before the war amounted to $72. Disabled men were expected to live on $12 less per month than ablebodied men were getting six years ago, regardless of cost of living increases. Mr. Whittingham stated that the Imperials were getting 40 shillings per week for total disability, while the pre-war laboring wage was 35 shillings a week. Neither the disabled men nor the widows and orphans could live on the Government allowance, the speaker claimed.

The second point of protest was the cutting out of pensions to those taking vocational courses. Mr. Whittingham showed that disabled men got only as much pay while taking the courses as the able-bodied men, and he claimed that the pensions should be continued in addition to the $88 a month paid while the course was being taken. There should be no such things as pensions, he declared, but only compensation for what the men had lost for their country.

Kiwanian Lorne Ross, formerly colonel in the 47th Battalion, backed up the statements of Mr. Whittingham, who was one of the men who served under him. "It is simply damnable," he declared, and he asked the Kiwanis Club to name a committee to send a wire to Ottawa, where a committee was now sitting on the question of pensions. This committee was named and consists of Kiwanians Lorne Ross, B. Nicholas and W. M. Ivel. Mr. Whittingham suggested $100 a month as the amount of pension which should be paid to men who were totally disabled.

The committee met yesterday afternoon and framed the following letter, which has been forwarded to the Pensions Commission, Ottawa:

A Sacred Obligation

"The Kiwanis Club of Victoria feels strongly that Canada is under a sacred obligation to fulfil the promises made to her fighting men to compensate fairly those who have suffered from war service.

"Kiwanians realise that the bill is a heavy one, but the honor of Canada can allow no compromise in faithfully carrying out her bounden duty.

"We feel that the present scale of pensions is not commensurate with the existing cost of living, and should be revised on the basis of one hundred dollars total disability in order to insure that dependents and disabled men are afforded the safeguards of home and decent comfort.

"Those disabled men who are ambitious to succeed and are taking courses of training to fit themselves to be more useful citizens should not be penalized by the suspension of their pensions during the training period.

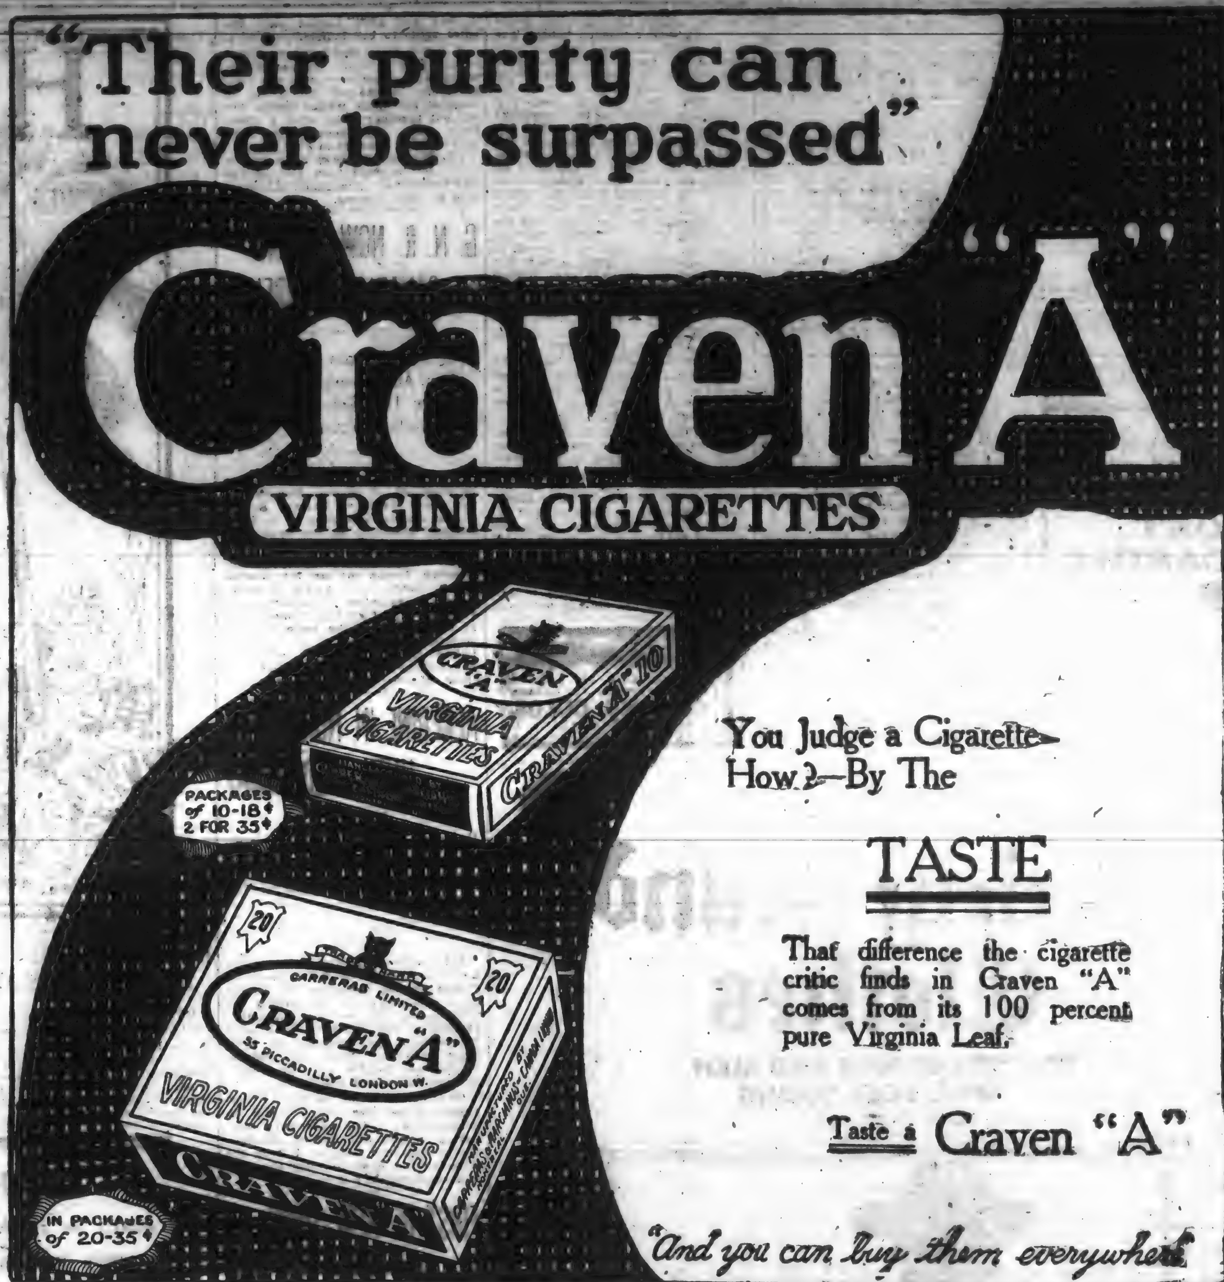

"As prompt action is the essence of efficient service, we trust this matter will receive immediate and satisfactory attention."

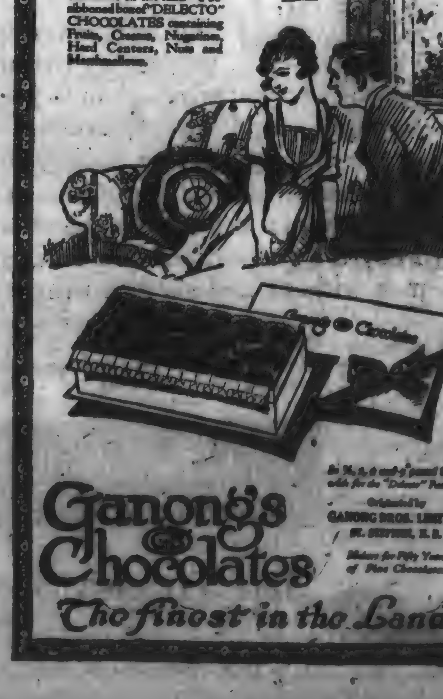

VANCOUVER, April 13.—Verdicts of alcoholic poisoning were returned this morning by the coroner's jury in the cases of Helen Wyld and Kitsumatau Hamawaki. The former had partaken of fermented fruit drinks, while the latter drank a quantity of Japanese liquor.

HOUSEHOLD NECESSITIES

Household Necessities, a second-hand store formerly located at 747 Fort Street, has reopened at 542 Bastion Street, just back of the Bank of Montreal, under the ownership of Mr. Crawford Coates, who was also formerly connected with the venture. The store, as its name implies, endeavors to deal in anything necessary to household usages or comfort. Mr. Coates' long experience in the architectural profession has assisted him materially in the discreet and discerning accumulation of household goods. He has introduced new features into the business of second-hand dealing, among others the free delivery of bulky articles, the refurbishing of used articles, the regular dressing of his windows and low prices. He has also been of considerable assistance to returned soldiers in re-establishing their homes.

Household Necessities, where requested, gives a credit order on David Spencer, Ltd., for goods which have outlived their usefulness to the party disposing of them, and this system has proved a success beyond that anticipated. The resumption of the business at a new location is proving a popular move, and Household Necessities purposes introducing other progressive features which will be of benefit to the community.

YARROW'S ADD TO YARD EQUIPMENT

Electrical Welders, Big Gantry Crane From Foundation Yard and New Compressor Plant Are Improvements

The lull in ship repair work at the plant of Yarrow's, Ltd., Esquimalt, has been utilized by that firm to make a number of improvements in the way of additional equipment and the overhaul of the old.

Among other things the old compressor plant has been discarded and a new one built. A new sheet metal building houses three electrically driven compressors, the largest of which has a capacity of approximately 1,000 cubic feet of air a minute. The other two compressors are much smaller, and each is driven by individual motors. The new equipment is sufficient to handle all the work it is possible to do at the plant. Air is one of the most important features of the modern shipbuilding and repair plant, everything from painting to riveting being done by its use.

Yarrow's, Ltd., has also purchased two of the big gantry cranes which swung material into place on the wooden hulls built by the Foundation Company on the old reserve. One of these cranes has been placed in position in the Yarrow's yard, a concrete base being prepared for it. This equipment will handle material over the spot where all construction work such as the building of shallow-draft river boats has been done in the past.

Electric Welder

Another important addition to the Yarrow equipment is the installation of two portable electric welding units. Previous to the purchase of this apparatus the concern used the floating equipment of the Standard Electric Welding Company of Vancouver and Seattle for electric welding jobs. The first big work to be done by the new welders is the repairing of the rudder and rudder stock of the big Harrison boat Tactician, which is now at Esquimalt.

It was the privilege of a Colonist representative on Monday to witness the commencement of the welding on the cracked rudder frame. A cut several inches wide was made on either side of the crack, leaving only a narrow width of metal between the two cuts. These cuts must be filled with metal by the electric welding process, thus making the frame one solid piece at the spot where the cruck occurs. Those watching the welding process must guard their sight by looking through small panes of red glass in a wooden holder. The metal could be seen melting into place in the frame cut in the midst of a splutter of flame out of which white hot sparks of metal were flying. The electricity is conveyed through a handle in the operator's hand and down through a rod of special metal held by a clamp in the handle. The other wire needed to complete the circuit is grounded on the frame not far distant. The "juice," in jumping from the metal rod to the frame, creates such a heat that the rod melts and drops onto the the frame, where it becomes part of the latter. The operator is forced to stop frequently to place a new rod in his holder, the old one having melted away. The process is slow but when the reporter left the cut in the frame was gradually being filled with metal.

Floating Compressor

The floating compressor used by Yarrow's for piping air into a vessel on which work is being done has been placed in first-class condition through an overhaul.

The Prince George is still at the Yarrow's dock, where she has had several plates replaced in her stern. a Vancouver ferry having struck her some time ago. The crew of the Grand Trunk steamer is busy painting and cleaning up ready for her resumption next Wednesday, when she will sail for Stewart via Seattle, Vancouver and other Coast points.

The ore-carrier Quadra left the Esquimalt repair plant on Sunday last after undergoing repairs to her deck where an ore bunker fell upon it, and also after having some repairs made to her boilers.

A Fay & Egan saw has been added to the joiner room equipment. It was in this department that the local aeroplane Pathfinder Mc. 2 lay in hospital for many weeks, slowly being put together again after a disastrous crash. The men in the yard took a great interest in that job.

Mr. Norman Yarrow, head of the plant, left a short time ago for the Old Country on a vacation, accompanied by Mrs. Yarrow.

G. N. R. NOW TAKING CANADIAN CURRENCY

Line, Freed From Administration, Announces That Money From This Side Is Good at Prevailing Discount

Canadian currency will once more be accepted at current discount on the Great Northern Railway in the United States, according to a letter received yesterday by the local office of the line.

The United States Railway Administration, during the last few months of its control of American roads, issued a regulation prohibiting the acceptance of Canadian money, even at discount, but the announcement received here changes all this, and Canadians will suffer no other inconvenience than that of having their currency discounted.

ALGERINE IN NORTH UNTIL WEDNESDAY

Salvage Steamer Will Remain at Prince Rupert Until Then —Prince John Docked for Survey

Information that the Prince John would be placed in the drydock at Prince Rupert yesterday for survey as a preliminary to the calling for tenders, and that the Algerine would remain at the northern port until Wednesday, was contained in messages yesterday from the salvage officials on the job to the Pacific Salvage Company's office here.

The Prince John reached Prince Rupert under her own steam on Monday night, after undergoing temporary repairs at Alliford Harbor, Queen Charlotte Islands. It took the Algerine ten days to raise the ship and reach drydock with her.

FIRST OF NEW SHIPS TO ARRIVE IN JUNE

Skipper of Chicago Maru Tells Of Up - to - Date Steamers Coming to North American Trade Route

The first of the new ships to be placed on the North American run by the Osaka Shosen Kaisha will arrive here about the first of June. This information was brought here by Capt. S. Yamane, master of the Chicago Maru, which reached the Outer Docks at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The Hawaii Maru is scheduled to leave Moji on May 7.

The three new steamers, the Hawaii Maru, Arizona Maru and Alabama Maru, are of the same class as the Africa Maru, 10,000 tons, stated Capt. Yamane, who added that they had more saloon accommodation than the Africa Maru. The latter has room for about 40 cabin passengers and the new boats about 60. The speed of the vessels is 13.5 knots.

The Chicago Maru will make one more round trip between here and the Orient and will then go on the O. S. K. South American service along with several other ships from the North American run.

Capt. Yamane reported an exceptionally smooth trip with the passengers pleased with the voyage. The Chicago made the run from Yokohama in 16 days.

One Japanese woman in the steerage died during the voyage across the Pacific. Eighty-six passengers debarked here while 89 went on to the Sound. Four hundred and thirty-one tons of freight, much of which consisted of toys and porcelain, was discharged here.

CONFER ON METHODS OF ENFORCING TREATY

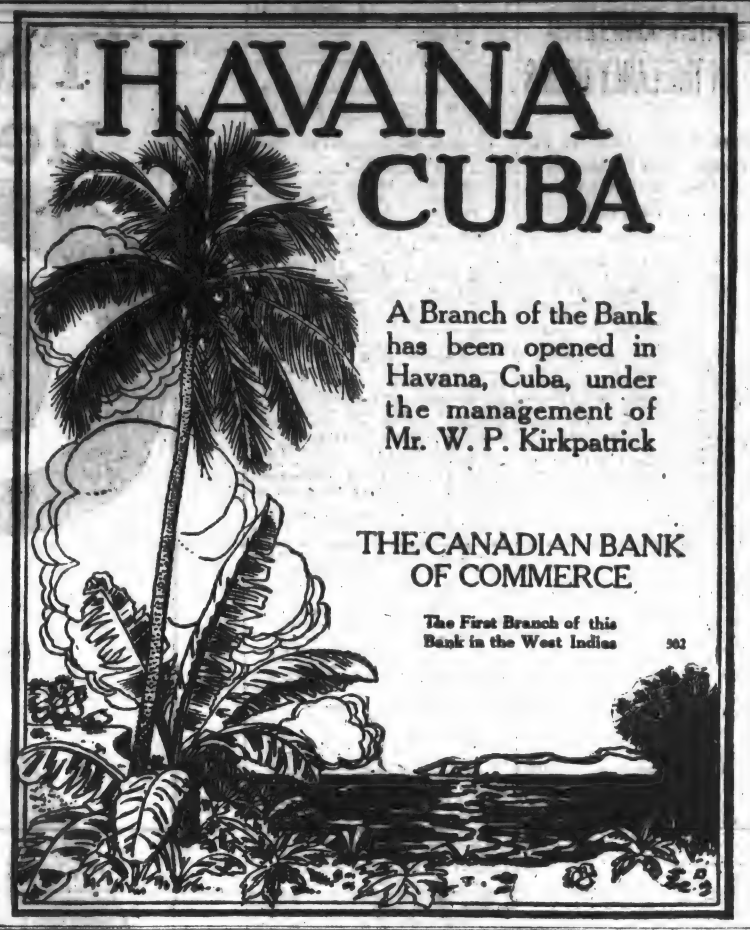

PARIS, April 13.—Winston Spencer Churchill and Andrew Lefevre, respectively the British and French war ministers, conferred yesterday with regard to technical means of applying the stipulations of the treaty of Versailles concerning the delivery and destruction of German munitions and war material, especially artillery. Marshal Foch, General Maxim Weygand, assistant to the Marshal, Major-General Buat, French chief of staff, and Major-General Sackville-West were present.

A complete agreement was reached at the conference. It was announced. It was decided, among other things, that the number of British and French officers engaged in this work by the Inter-Allied control commission must be increased.

Winnipeg to Flying Centre

WINNIPEG, April 13.—Emphasizing the commercial and other advantages of Winnipeg becoming a flying centre, Major Gray strongly urged the City Council to take action with a view to providing suitable landing places for the many airmen expected to fly across Canada this Summer, and a committee was appointed to confer with local flying men.

Qualicum Beach Hotel will open first of May.

INDIANS OPPOSING PROPOSED LEGISLATION

OTTAWA, April 13.—Further opposition to the proposed amendments to the Indian Act, chiefly on the ground that it means compulsory enfranchisement, also that it places too much power in the hands of the Superintendent-General, was heard by the special committee of the Commons today.

Rev. Peter Kelly, representing British Columbia Indians, supported the idea of compulsory education, but characterized the placing of children in boarding schools without consent of the parents as a high-handed proceeding. Leaving the Superintendent-General to decide on the fitness of an Indian for enfranchisement was altogether too autocratic.

Mr. A. R. Chisholm, counsel for the Six Nations Indians, disputed the impression given the committee at Friday's session by Deputy Minister Duncan Scott, that the British authorities allowed the Indians to believe themselves allies until the Crown was in a position to declare them subjects.

Today's session was attended by nearly twice as many Indians as at any previous session.

CREW GOES NORTH TO SOPHIA WRECK

Men Will Prepare for Salvage Attempt This Year—Company Also Talks of Raising the Islander

A crew of men has left for the North to prepare for the attempt to raise the Princess Sophia from Vanderbilt Reef, Lynn Canal, this year. The Deep Sea Salvage Company, of Seattle, has undertaken the task, and last year gathered equipment near the wreck for an attempt.

The Deep Sea Salvage Company claims that it will also investigate the chances of raising the Islander, which sank near Juneau with gold bullion aboard.

Apparatus for raising the Sophia has been designed by a Seattle housemover. It consists of two scows joined by a bridgework, from which cables will go down to the wreck. The high tides are expected to give the necessary lift once the cables are tightened around the hull. A series of lifts of this kind would allow the wreck to be moved into shallow water near shore and there repaired.

WAKENA STRIKES ON FULFORD REEF

Motorship Forced to Jettison Portion of Cargo Before Getting Off—Cargo Salvaged From Shore

Striking on Fulford Reef last Sunday the Borderline motorship Wakena was forced to jettison 334 bags of flour and several thousand mats of rice before she floated off. The boat came here and discharged some freight, among which were cases of oil which could have been cast overboard without any damage being done to them.

The Fulford Reef is about a third of a mile north of Chatham Island, and the jettisoned cargo is being salvaged from the shore in the vicinity of this city.

LONGSHORE TRUCE

Seattle Men Return to Work While Effort Made to Settle Difficulties

SEATTLE, April 13.—As the result of a truce of one week, agreed upon at a conference of the officers of the Seattle local, International Longshoremen's Association, and members of the Seattle Port Commission, with E. P. Marsh, Department of Labor conciliator, between 150 and 200 longshoremen returned to work at the Seattle public terminals this morning, after being on strike for several weeks. During the truce efforts to compose the differences between the longshoremen and the port commission concerning the employment of union labor at the terminals will be made.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish High Water from Low Water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of lower Low Water.

Esquimalt—to find the depth of water on the sill of the Dry Dock at any tide, add 18.9 feet to the height of High Water as above given.

STEAMER NEGOTIATES COMPLETED CHANNEL

C. P. R. Boat Minto Makes Trip Through Waterway Below Burton City — Dam Took Four Months to Build

REVELSTOKE, April 13.—The C.P.R. steamer Minto on Saturday last made her first trip through the new channel constructed this Winter at the foot of Swift Water, below Burton City. This channel will prove a great aid to a rather difficult piece of navigation. It is 440 feet long, with an average width of 125 feet. It is estimated that in digging this new waterway approximately 60,000 cubic yards of earth were moved, weighing 90,000 tons. At the upper approach to the channel there is a dam 540 feet long, which took four months to build. The work on the waterway was done by the Government dredge Sheildrake, Capt. Forslund was at the wheel of the Minto on her first trip through the new channel.

WINNIPEG, April 13.—Hon. IMMIGRATION NOW ENFORCING RULES

Boats Plying Across Line Must Be Cleared by Immigration as Well as Customs in the Future

The regulation requiring boats entering and clearing at the local customs to or from foreign ports to also pass the immigration authorities is being more rigidly enforced at this port. For some time past, fishing boats and other motor craft plying between the United States and the Island have not been forced to live up to the law, inasmuch as they did not report to the immigration authorities when entering or clearing. Immigration officials now must O.K. the list of those aboard before anyone can come ashore or before the boat can leave the port for the other side of the line. This means much additional work for the immigration staff, which is now working with two men short of the number employed in the past.

PORTLAND TO BUILD SEVEN OIL TANKERS

Northwest Steel Company Gets Contract for 12,000-Ton Steamers — About 4,000 Men to Be Employed

PORTLAND, April 13.—Closing of contracts with the Shipping Board, Washington, whereby the Northwest Steel Company here will build seven 12,000-ton oil tankers for the Swiftsure Oil Tank Transport Co., was announced today by J. R. Bowles, president of the steel company. Work will start within a few weeks, Mr. Bowles said.

The contract means employment for about 4,000 men, according to Mr. Bowles. The work will last approximately one year.

"Strictly and genuinely open shop will be maintained in the plant on its opening within a few weeks," declared Mr. Bowles. "A 44-hour week and the Macey scale will be observed in the plant."

A total of 39 steel ships were turned out by the Northwest Steel Company during the wartime building campaign. Many of the vessels have made excellent records and have demonstrated the ability of Western shipbuilders.

Four ways are available for laying of keels at the plant in South Portland.

Segal's Conviction Quashed

WINNIPEG, April 13. — Nathan Segal, sentenced at the Spring assizes to one month in jail for perjury in connection with an alleged attempt at bribery in the last civic elections, was released today, his conviction being quashed by the Manitoba Court of Appeal.

From a Child Was Constipated

According to the best medical authorities, fully three-fourths of the people of the civilized world suffer in some form from costiveness or irregular action of the bowels. There is no doubt that many distressing diseases are caused by constipation. It gives rise to sick and bilious headaches, jaundice, heartburn, floating specks before the eyes, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness, and the painful, troublesome piles. Therefore, it is of supreme importance to health that the bowels be kept regular. Simple food, fruit, etc., should be used, and rich food and stimulants of all kinds avoided. This, with the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills to regulate and establish healthy action of the bowels, cannot fail to give permanent relief in the most obstinate cases.

Mrs. Letitia Wainman, Orillia, Ont., writes:—"From a child I was always very badly constipated, and I can well remember when quite young, my mother giving me senna tea nearly every morning, and I got to dread it. After taking Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for a while I am not troubled with constipation any more."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

PROFESSIONALS TAKE CONTROL OF MARKET

Belief That Railway Strike Will Soon End Has Moderately Bracing Effect—Some Issues Make Gains

NEW YORK, April 13.—Traders and professional interests, almost as a whole, seemed disposed to pay less attention to the railroad strike today, basing their confident attitude on the belief that the strike is on the wane.

The stock market was strong only in spots, however, food shares, secondary steels, equipments, shippings and miscellaneous specialties making variable gains, while leaders in the industrial division were irregular and occasionally heavy.

Conditions in the money market were not materially altered, call loans opening at 7 per cent and advancing to 12 per cent on the usual belated demand in the final dealings. Time funds were increasingly scarce, but local and interior banks were reported as buying merchants' paper.

Foreign exchange rallied from its recent continuous depression, due chiefly, it is believed, to reduced offerings. British, French and Italian bills made up part of yesterday's reversal, but the German mark broke sharply.

Fresh interest attached to the gold export movement by reason of further shipments to South America. Bankers in touch with the situation declared that exports are founded solely on the fact that exchange at Buenos Ayres continued at the gold import rate.

Stocks were at their best during the last hour, when oils of the Texas-Mexican group were run up suddenly at the expense of the shorts.

Shippings and minor industrials also participated in the advance, a firm to strong tone prevailing at the close.

Sales amounted to 1,050,000 shares.

Bonds at no time shared in the strength of the stock market, that division suffering further impairment from the weakness of Liberty and Victory issues. Total sales, par value, aggregated $13,375,000. Old U. S. bonds 2's rose slightly, others unchanged.

VEGETABLES SCARCE; PROSPECTS CHEERLESS

California Greens and Citrus Fruit Held Up by Railway Strike—Butter Goes Up and Egg Market Stiffens

There seems to be every prospect that green vegetables and citrus fruits will be scarce in Lower Yates Street. There was a marked shortage on California shipments yesterday and, should the railway tieup in that State continue for any length of time, produce men prophesy that Victorians will be going without green stuff until the local growers get on the market. The tieup, has also caused a boost in prices to some extent, for much of the produce has to be handled on long hauls by trucks at the other end and this is proving a more costly method.

The local butter production not being any considerable factor in the supply of the local market, all lines of storage butter took on added cent to two cents during the first days of this week as a result of the falling off of the supply from the Prairie Provinces. It is reported that an unusually hard winter followed by a prolongation of severe weather conditions in Alberta and Saskatchewan has practically crippled the prospects of the dairymen getting into the Spring export business. Private dispatches state that as a rule the cattle are in an emaciated condition as a result of short feeding in an effort to carry through the Winter and now are dying in numbers as a result of the recent hard storms throughout the Prairie section.

Along with these little eccentricities, the British Columbia hens are showing signs of becoming broody with a result that the egg market was stiffer yesterday with a jump in price of two cents on the dozen. It is understood that the peak of the local production has passed. Both Yakima and New Zealand dry onions are on the market to relieve the shortage but not the price, which remains at 10½ and 10 cents a pound wholesale.
